SB 2009 – New Course in Spanish: SPAN 310 (Introduction to Translation: Spanish-English)

> SPAN 310 (Introduction to Translation: Spanish-English), 3hrs.
> This course will provide an introductory comparison of linguistic traits of both languages, enable students to apply grammatical rules, perform textual analyses, and use a number of translation procedures while translating a variety of texts from Spanish to English: newspaper editorials, magazine articles, business letters, articles in the social sciences, advertisements, etc. Prerequisites: SPAN 202 with a grade of "B" or higher, or a satisfactory equivalent deemed acceptable by the professor. Prerequisite/co-requisite: ENGL 102.
> (Second Read)

SB 2010 – New Course in Spanish: SPAN 410 (Advanced Translation)

SPAN 410 (Advanced Translation), 3hrs.
This course will require students to examine the application of advanced modern translation theory, while translating technical texts, primarily from Spanish to English, in a variety of fields such as: sport, business, medicine, psychiatry, marketing, fashion, law, current affairs and political journalism. Prerequisites: SPAN 310 and SPAN 301 (the latter may also be taken as a co-requisite).
(Second Read)

SB 2011 – New Course in Spanish: SPAN 305 (Civilization and Culture of Spain)

SPAN 305 (Civilization and Culture of Spain), 3hrs.
Starting in the pre-Roman era and ending with present-day Spain, this course will chronologically analyze Spanish culture through artistic, sociological, and political manifestations. Emphasis will be given to historical events which have shaped modern Spanish culture for the purpose of oral and written discussion in Spanish. Prerequisites: SPAN 202 or equivalent.
(Second Read)

SB 2012 – New course in Spanish: SPAN 450 (Senior Seminar: Comparisons between Spanish and Latin American Literature)

SPAN 450 (Senior Seminar: Comparisons between Spanish and Latin American Literature) 3hrs.
Students will examine works of Peninsular and Latin American literature for the purpose of discussing the cultures and civilizations in which they developed. The course will be conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Any Spanish literature course at the 300 level or above.

SB 2016 – Proposal for Changes to Computer Science Major

Add CSCI 110 (Computing Foundations and Ethics) to provide overview of information technology majors and preparation for CSCI 111.

Add CSCI 325 (File Processing and Database Structures) (formerly CSCI 424, but course number changed in engineering proposal, Fall 2006) to include adequate coverage of database systems. Formerly an elective course.

Add CSCI 355 (Computer Network Architecture and Programming) to provide adequate coverage of computer networks.

Add CSCI 465 (Technical Aspects of Information Security) to address security issues. This is a new course and is described in Part I.

Reduce Electives from 15 to 6 because of the increase of core hours.

Make Math 131 the Foundational Studies math course to emphasize the mathematics requirements for the major.

Change CSCI 111 course name and description to better reflect the current course content.
    Previous Course Name: Computer Science I
    Previous Course Description: Introduction to structured programming and algorithms with an object-oriented language. Topics include input/output, flow of control, functions, and an introduction to software engineering. Programming assignments are required.

    New Course Name: Introduction to Programming
    New Course Description: An introduction to structured programming and algorithms. Topics include input/output, flow of control, functions, simple data structures, classes, and an introduction to software engineering. Programming assignments are required.

Change CSCI 112 course name and description to better reflect the current course content.
    Previous Course Name: Computer Science II
    Previous Course Description: Continuation of CSCI 111. Further development of discipline in program design, especially for larger programs. Introduction of pointers, simple data structures, recursion, internal sort/search methods. Programming assignments are required.

    New Course Name: Advanced Programming
    New Course Description: Continuation of CSCI 111. Further development of discipline in program design, especially for larger programs. Introduction of pointers, recursion, inheritance, polymorphism, exception handling, and internal sort/search methods. Programming assignments are required.

Change CSCI 340 course number to better reflect course content and its intended audience of MIS and Web Technology majors.
    Previous Course Number: CSCI 340
    New Course Number: CMIS 340

Pre-requisite changes:
CSCI 111   Former pre-requisite: INFT
            New pre-requisite: CSCI 110 and Math 121 or higher.
CSCI 112   Former pre-requisite: Math 121 and CSCI 111 or CMIS 212

	New pre-requisite: CSCI 111
CSCI 325	Former pre-requisite: CSCI 215
	New pre-requisite: CSCI 215 and Math 211 and Math 250
CSCI 342	Former pre-requisite: CSCI 215
	New pre-requisite: CSCI 215 and Math 250
ENGS 375	Former pre-requisite: CSCI 215
	New pre-requisite: CSCI 215 or CMIS 312
CSCI 415	Former pre-requisite: CSCI 342 or 443
	New pre-requisite: CSCI 215 and Senior Status
CSCI 443	Former pre-requisite: CSCI 215
	New pre-requisite: CSCI 342
CSCI 497	Former pre-requisite: Permission of instructor.
	New pre-requisite: CSCI 215 and Permission of instructor.

SB 2020 – Proposal for changes to Computer & Management Information Systems Major

The following changes were proposed for the CMIS major:

a. Currently, students may choose Math 121, 125 or 126 for Foundational Studies on the left of CMIS graduation completion sheet. We propose to require Math 121 (College Algebra) since it's an important foundation course.

b. ABET requires 9 credit hours of quantitative analysis including calculus and discrete math, therefore, the proposed change is to require Math 126 (Elementary Calculus) for Gen. Ed. Elective under Investigative Studies on the left of graduation Completion sheet, and cross out the note of "*Strongly recommend ECNC 213" note there on current graduation completion sheet.

c. In addition, we propose to add Math 250 (Discrete Math) requirement to be listed on the right of the graduation completion sheet to meet ABET's 9 credit hours requirement on quantity analysis.

d. ABET also requires coverage of economic implications of computing, therefore, we propose adding ENGI220 (Engineering Economy) requirement for the major.

e. Since ABET requires only 15 credit hours of information systems environment (business), we propose dropping BUSI 330 (Marketing) requirement. With that change, we will still have 17 hours business requirement which will be more than enough to meet ABET requirement.

f. Reduce the Electives from 14 credit hours to 11.

g. With the above changes, the total minimum required hours will still be 123.
