DESCRIPTION

A comparative study of the political and governmental systems of selected nations with that of the United States.

REQUIREMENTS

1. Each student is responsible for assigned readings and should keep a looseleaf notebook of class materials. A separate notebook or folder of reading materials will be kept on reserve on the library, along with a few other resources.
2. Participation is an essential part of class. Reading assignments should be completed before the class meets. Be prepared to discuss textbook material, report on assigned articles (selected from Comparative Politics 96/97), and review current events.
3. Attendance is required. A week's absence may be excused, but lengthy absences or erratic attendance will have a detrimental effect on grades (possibly 10% of the grade or more). If you expect to miss class, please notify me through the school before class meets.
4. Students will be tested on the lecture, reading, and discussion material through seven quizzes (the lowest score will be dropped) and two essay and short answer exams. Final grade: quizzes = 60%, exams = 40%.
5. Each student will make two brief (10-12 minutes) oral presentations on two countries (each from different continents) in class. Short outlines or abstracts should be provided at the time of presentation. Textbook case study countries are not eligible.
6. Each student will take a pass/fail political geography quiz.
