Liberty University students explore Christian community service opportunities

August 22, 2008

Photo caption: A volunteer from Young Life talks to Liberty University students about Christian/community service with her organization, a ministry to teenagers. The booth was part of the Christian Community Service Registration Fair held Thursday and Friday in DeMoss Learning Center. All Liberty University students are required to complete a specified number of Christian Service hours before graduation. At the fair, students had a chance to meet supervisors from various church and community organizations, learn what they do to meet the needs of our community, and register for Christian community service.
