Intramural flag football team competes at nationals

January 08, 2009

Liberty University's intramural flag football team recently competed in the National Intramural-Recreational Sports Association's (NIRSA) Flag Football Championships in Tampa, Fla. The squad of LU students nicknamed the "Belcher Boys" faced off against the likes of Southern Mississippi, Drake University, the University of Central Florida and Angelo State.

While LU did not capture the gold, Liberty's David Palmer took first place in the punt and pass competition,

Liberty's pass rush specialist, Anton Downs, also garnered individual honors as he earned a spot on the all-tournament team, recognizing the tourney's most outstanding players. To view the entire championship bracket and results, visit www.nirsa.org.
