

CROSSED SWORDS: ENTANGLEMENTS BETWEEN CHURCH AND STATE IN AMERICA

by
STEVEN ALAN SAMSON

A DISSERTATION

Presented to the Department of Political Science and the Graduate School of the University of Oregon in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy

June 1984

APPROVED: _____
James Klonoski

© Steven Alan Samson

VITA

NAME OF AUTHOR: Steven Alan Samson

PLACE OF BIRTH: Portland, Oregon

DATE OF BIRTH: June 25, 1948

UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE SCHOOLS ATTENDED:

University of Colorado
Western Oregon State College
University of Oregon
Portland State University

DEGREES AWARDED:

Bachelor of Arts, 1969, University of Colorado
Master of Arts, 1974, University of Colorado
Doctor of Philosophy, 1984, University of Oregon

AREAS OF SPECIAL INTEREST:

American Political Thought
Constitutional Law
Policy Analysis
Political Theory

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:

Instructor, Department of Social Science, Chemeketa Community College, Salem, 1977-80

Instructor, Department of Social Science, Portland Community College, Portland, 1979-84

Instructor, Department of History, George Fox College, Newberg, 1979

Instructor, Department of Social Science, Mt. Hood Community
College, Gresham, 1979-81

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I wish to thank my family and friends for their considerable support during the research and writing of this dissertation. Special thanks go to Americans United for Separation of Church and State, the Association of Christian Schools International, William Ball, the Bill of Rights Legal Foundation, Samuel Boyle, Carolina Capistrano, Wylie Caskey, David Chilton, the Christian Law Association, The Christian Legal Society, the Committee for Public Education, Gary DeMar, Samuel Ericsson, Marshall Foster, Edward Gaffney, Gammon and Grange, David Gibbs, Good Shepherd Community Church, Verna Hall, William Hosmer, Harry Jackson, Archie Jones, Douglas Kelly, Douglas Kresse, Joe Lutz, Robert Metcalf, John Olson, Walfred Peterson, Reformation Covenant Church, James Rose, R. J. Rushdoony, SaltShakers, Inc., Rosalie Slater, Herbert Titus, Town Center Baptist Church, Charles Wolfe, Elliott Wright, and the members of my dissertation committee.

Finally, a special word is due to Sally, who bore her double burden graciously, and to Andrew, my silent partner during the first nine months of this writing, my midnight watch companion during the last four, and a rod of discipline throughout. If ever a child fathered the man, the evidence may be found in these pages. Soli Deo gloria.

--May, 1984

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
INTRODUCTION.....	1
Notes.....	11
Chapter
I.    THE IMPRINT OF CULTURE.....	13
Religion and Politics.....	13
Church, State, and Sovereignty.....	16
A Cautionary Tale.....	31
The Dynamics of the Problem.....	38
Notes.....	42
II.   BIBLICAL ROOTS.....	52
Origins.....	52
Israel.....	53
The Covenant Law.....	55
The Monarchy.....	60
Rival Theologies.....	62
The Church.....	68
Notes.....	84
III.  EARLY CHRISTENDOM.....	87
Rise of the Roman Empire.....	88
The Two Sovereignties.....	98
Notes.....	115
IV.   EUROPEAN BACKGROUND.....	120
Emergence of National States.....	121
British Constitutionalism.....	124
Church and State in Medieval England.....	130
The Reformation.....	137
Notes.....	146
V.    THE AMERICAN COMMONWEALTH.....	151
The Pilgrims and the Puritans.....	154
Transition.....	161

	The Struggle for Liberty.....	163
	The Perfect Law of Liberty.....	170
	The Founding Documents.....	174
	The Idea of a Christian Republic.....	179
	Notes.....	184
VI.	EARLY CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES.....	194
	Disestablishment.....	198
	The Myth of Neutrality.....	204
	The Religion Clauses.....	208
	Interpretations.....	219
	Transformation.....	236
	Notes.....	242
VII.	THE SUPREME COURT AS A GUARDIAN.....	258
	Accommodation.....	259
	Consensus-Building.....	273
	Recapitulation.....	303
	Notes.....	304
VIII.	THE SUPREME COURT AS A VANGUARD.....	309
	The Free Exercise Clause.....	310
	The Establishment Clause.....	345
	The Incorporation Theory.....	356
	Tension Between the Clauses.....	375
	Notes.....	378
IX.	RECENT CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES.....	382
	Doctrinal Entanglements.....	383
	Synthesis.....	421
	Notes.....	428
X.	FISCAL REGULATION.....	430
	Background.....	434
	Income Taxation.....	445
	Property Taxation.....	453
	Cases and Controversies.....	455
	Subsidies.....	459
	Conclusions.....	464
	Notes.....	469
XI.	SCHOLASTIC POLITICS.....	483
	The Public Education Movement.....	484
	Religion and Education.....	491
	Conduits of Regulation.....	498

Cases and Controversies.....	503
Conclusions.....	518
Notes.....	522
XII.    SOCIAL REGULATION.....	536
Church Polity and Doctrines.....	539
Business and Political Activity.....	544
Auxiliary Ministries.....	547
Police Powers and Public Services.....	553
Discrimination.....	566
Conclusion.....	577
Notes.....	579
CONCLUSION.....	586
Notes.....	615
BIBLIOGRAPHY.....	619

An Abstract of the Dissertation of

Steven Alan Samson for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the Department of Political Science to be taken June 1984

Title: CROSSED SWORDS: ENTANGLEMENTS BETWEEN CHURCH AND STATE IN AMERICA

Approved:

James Klonoski

The purpose of this study is to identify and assess a number of political, economic, and religious factors that have defined and redefined the historical accommodation between church and state. Particular attention is given to the effects of fiscal, educational, and social regulations on the free exercise of religion.

Religious liberty in America is commonly thought to be secured by a constitutional wall of separation between church and state. Its character is best understood in the context of an original Protestant Christian cultural consensus which underlay the plurality of competing sects. The findings of this study are that, first, American law and custom still preserve elements of an earlier state church tradition despite the historical coincidence between the framing of the Constitution and the disestablishment of religion. The political and religious perspective of the founders is in fact so strongly impressed upon the constitutional system that, second, discrepancies between the basic doctrines of Christianity and the expectations of diverse religious and secular subcultures are among the major sources of conflict within the political arena. But, third, changing interpretations of the constitutional provisions respecting religion and a growing state presence in all areas of social and economic life tend to reduce the formal role of religion in public life, leading some religious leaders to express public concern over losses of liberty and influence by the church. Current litigation indicates that churches are faced with unaccustomed restrictions on the corporate powers, tax immunities, internal operations, teaching ministries, and missionary activities of their organizations.

This study analyzes the relationship of church and state in America against the background of early Christianity, the emergence of nationalism in Europe, the settlement of America, and the framing of the Constitution. Its central feature is a chronological and topical study of the Supreme Court rulings on religious issues.