Dear friend,

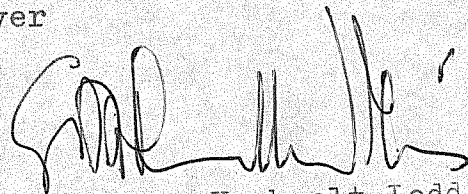

thank you for your interesting letter ! I hear that, you are again leaving - leaving Florida for an unknown destination. It is amazing that you are changing that lovely State, but I am sure that you will find another place. (Over here professors have a life tenure.) You are such an excellent man as a scholar. After all, I have known you now for many years, and there are probably very few teachers in America with such an all-round knowledge and experience. You have really the world in your grasp - intellectually and not only intellectually but also - how should I say it ? - "emotionally". Most teachers in universities and colleges are usually specialists in one, two or, at best, three areas, but you have such a wide sweep.

Thus I am sure that it will not be difficult for you to find another place where they appreciate you-

I have just returned from Oman where I lectured at the Sultan Qaboos University on Constitutions. Buildingwise this university is the most perfect place I saw anywhere, but the faculty and also the students have quality. (Of course, no social life and strict division of the sexes, however as many male as female students.)

My love to your family !

Yours ever

Erik von Kuehnelt-Leddihn.
