Debate Center Dream to Become Reality

Did you debate when the debate office was a cubicle in the DeMoss Office Suites, or when the debate lab was shared with a classroom, or in our present location in the "heat" of the Teacher Education Building? After years of little space for debate work, the debate team will move into a state-of-the-art 3300 square foot facility this January. This new space will include a work area for our team, a computer lab, a classroom for practice debates and instruction and new offices for the coaching staff. The new area will be located on the main floor of the new DeMoss Building addition. In addition to increasing our recruiting and competitive goals, the facility's location will be central to the campus and will better assist the program in running our college and high school tournaments, (Liberty hosts the largest American Debate Association college debate tournament and the Virginia State Debate High School Championships) and in providing quality instruction for our growing summer high school program. The new debate facility has been designated by the university as a Center of Excellence and will be titled

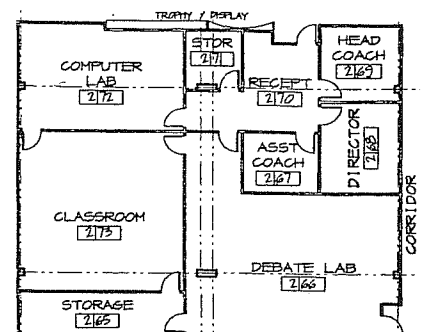

The Center for the Study of Argumentation, Critical Thinking and Public Discourse. It is a product of the success of you, our alumni, who worked hard to establish the reputation of Liberty Debate as a Christ-centered debating team that is competitively excellent.

However, I need your assistance in completing the Center. Liberty has challenged each academic area with raising the necessary money to equip and furnish their individual area. I have been given the task of raising three hundred thousand dollars to finish the debate team's area. These funds are necessary to purchase computers, a video taping system and projector for the classroom, and furniture and cabinets for each of the rooms. Additionally, part of the money will be put into a technology endowment to ensure that the computers are consistently updated with the latest hardware and software. You can assist in two ways. First, your company, law firm, etc. may be interested in naming the Center. Any donor who provides the entire amount can name the Center. Speak with your development office, human resource or public relations department to inquire about the possibility of underwriting part or the entire center. Second, you can assist the Center's completion by donating the funds for an individual item. You can donate a desk, a worktable, the video equipment, or a computer for the new lab. Your donation will be noted on a plaque placed in the Center listing all individuals who have given to the team. See the back of this newsletter for a listing of the items we need. All monies given will go directly to finishing the debate center.

The new debate center is an incredible opportunity for our students to improve their Christian ministry, their education, and the competition of the team. However, the center cannot be effective unless it is properly outfitted. I hope you will help us locate potential sponsors or perhaps make a donation yourself to the Liberty Debate Team so that we can continue to increase students' spiritual and educational experiences while they are here at Liberty through the activity of debate.

There are some exciting things happening on the Liberty University Debate Team. Second place rankings in last year's ADA and NDT final sweepstakes have motivated this young squad to work hard. The varsity team of Travis Ausland and John Ross are aiming for a 1st Round bid to the National Debate Tournament while the JV and Novice members are working to defeat their newest rival, Catholic University (who ranked first in the ADA and NDT rankings).

The new DeMoss building that will house the Debate Center has also motivated the team. Watching the progress of the building that will house the new 3300 square foot debate facility is a morale boost that can only be topped by alumni support in furnishing it.

In May, the team hosted the Virginia High School League State Debate Tournament. The tournament brought over 400 debaters and coaches to see the campus and hear about Liberty Debate. The League has already committed to allow us to host the tournament again in May 2002 for the fourth straight year.

This summer's Liberty Debate Institute was also very successful with over 40 participants. Camp lectures were video taped for the first time this year and are available for sale along with the camp evidence packets. The debate team has grown both spiritually and competitively and we are excited to see what God will do in this new season.
