1-2019

He Was Right - It Should Be 'Hollered'

Harold Willmington

Liberty University, hwillmington@liberty.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.liberty.edu/willmington_personal_observations

Part of the Biblical Studies Commons, Christianity Commons, and the Religious Thought, Theology and Philosophy of Religion Commons

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Dr. Harold Willmington's Personal Observations at Scholars Crossing. It has been accepted for inclusion in Dr. Willmington's Personal Observations of the Bible by an authorized administrator of Scholars Crossing. For more information, please contact scholarlycommunication@liberty.edu.
A pastor friend of mine once had the joy of leading one of the most wicked men in his entire community to the Lord. The former drunkard, thief and street fighter now glowed with the love of Christ. Shortly following his amazing conversion he asked the pastor if he could give his testimony, which request was quickly granted. Thus, this uneducated and crude convert stood before the congregation and, with many tears, related what Christ had done for him. He ended his testimony by quoting what had become his life’s verse, Matt. 6:9, “Hallowed be thy name.”

“Folks,” he cried out, “this is what it’s all about! The name of the Lord should be ‘hollored.’ We ought to ‘holler’ it from the housetops!”

After he was finished the pastor observed to his smiling congregation that, if the truth were known, this new convert had captured the true spirit of Matt. 6:9, if not the letter.

P. S. May I ask you to tell someone about Emmaus Bread?