1-2019

How to Make History's Most Famous Author Feel Great

Harold Willmington

Liberty University, hwillmington@liberty.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.liberty.edu/willmington_personal_observations

Part of the Biblical Studies Commons, Christianity Commons, and the Religious Thought, Theology and Philosophy of Religion Commons

Recommended Citation

Willmington, Harold, "How to Make History's Most Famous Author Feel Great" (2019). Dr. Willmington's Personal Observations of the Bible. 9.

https://digitalcommons.liberty.edu/willmington_personal_observations/9

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Dr. Harold Willmington's Personal Observations at Scholars Crossing. It has been accepted for inclusion in Dr. Willmington's Personal Observations of the Bible by an authorized administrator of Scholars Crossing. For more information, please contact scholarlycommunication@liberty.edu.
HOW TO MAKE HISTORY’S MOST FAMOUS AUTHOR FEEL GREAT

Often God is thought of as a Creator, a Redeemer, a Shepherd, a Judge, etc. This is correct thinking, of course, for he does indeed function in all these roles. But there is one great accomplishment of God which is almost always left off the divine attribute lists compiled by men. This wonderful but forgotten role is that of Author! God has written a book, and that profound and priceless book is the Bible. As testified to by any human author, the nicest thing one can say to an author is, “Oh, yes, I’ve read your book.”

It is a tragic but true fact that many of the Christians who will someday (along with all believers) stand before the judgment seat of Christ will be sadly forced to admit that, while they were saved by heeding the salvation message in God’s Book, they nevertheless failed to take the time to read it. Thus, if for no other reason, the Bible should be carefully read to allow the believer to proclaim to Christ on that day: “Dear Jesus, there were many things I did not do on earth that I should have done, as well as other things I did do that I should not have, but one thing I did—I read your book!”

So, do it! It will make the author feel great. After all, He once said:

‘Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.’

P.S. May I ask you to tell someone about Emmaus Bread?