The bibliography in The Thjeme Is Freedom by M. Stanton Evans book is a good source for supporting material. Donald Lutz has written and edited several books that trace the political and documentary development of our constitutional tradition. The University of Szeged in Hungary has been sponsoring research on American historical documents. Recent bibliographies citing foundation documents and secondary literature may be found at http://www.jate.u-szeged.hu/~gnovak/s99foundationdocs.htm and, more comprehensively, http://www.jate.u-szeged.hu/~gnovak/crsdocuments.htm#fed.

The Federalist Papers may be accessed at http://memory.loc.gov/const/fed/fedpapers.html

Anti-Federalist writings and other early documents are available at http://www.constitution.org/afp/afp.htm

Another excellent resource is A Republic if You Can Keep It by Gai Ferdon, which includes a DVD with links to original documents.
