

James Colthurst

Mon 5/5/2014 11:53 AM

mark as unread

To: Spadino, Jesse;

Dear Jesse,

Fine for the photos. I am not sure I remember a bar chart with asthma results. There were a couple of bar charts in the Pain Clinic publication and these are bars of the collective results (even more remarkable). What they show one one is the number of treatments given, and the other shows how long patients had been ill (and had been treated with other modalities unsuccessfully) before embarking on Fenzian treatment. It is pretty staggering to reach an over 80% positive outcome in a population where 30% had had their problem for over 5 years!

If those are the bar charts you mean, by all means use them.

Best wishes, James