Who's Who honors Liberty prof

By CHRISTOPHER HOLDEN

Oscaran Professor

Dr. Tung Hua Lai, associate professor of economics and director of the economics program at Liberty University, was recently honored with the Who's Who in America honor for his contributions to economic forecasting.

Lai was selected for the national honor because of his contribution to the field of economic forecasting and his teaching of economic principle in the Department of Business and Government at Liberty University. Lai is also an active member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) and represents his university in SACS as well.

Inside News

Local entertainment

Discover what the Lynchburg Fine Arts Center has to offer. See Page 5.

Upcoming concert: Al Downey, popular country and western music talent to Liberty this Friday. For a close up look at Downey see Page 5.

Opinion

Was it just an illusion? The Champion goes backstage for a photo spectacular and a personal audience with country singer Ian LaFave after Friday's concert. See Page 8.

The death of socialism? This week's Point/Counterpoint examine whether Gorbachev is really dedicated to ending socialism in the Soviet Union or is just making superficial changes to avoid an ideological collapse. See Page 3.

Sports

Fuiman fans the flame of defeat: QB Hugh Swilling led the Paladins to a 21-6 loss to the Flames as he utilized the Flames' defense in leading Furman to victory. See Page 6.

Kathakali activities have provided supplement for many. The activities will continue this weekend with additional performances, titles and craft shows.

City sets ramp deadline

By DEBBIE REECE

City News Editor

The City of Lynchburg is preparing to zero in on the Liberty University ramp project. The city's Public Works Department is currently reviewing the plans and an official decision will be made as soon as possible.

SACS Committee leaves positive report

By DEBBIE REECE

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) said it was pleased with the progress LU has made in all areas during a visit last week. President A. Pierre Guillermin said Monday.

SACS commented that the committee was pleased with the Liberty University School of Education and the Lamplighter, the university's newspaper.

The committee also commented that the university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

WLBU equipment will expand program

By DAWN K. LOONEY

The telecommunications department is looking forward to the installation of new and refurbished equipment at WLBU radio and television, which will improve the curricula for all television and radio programs.

According to the Telecommunications Department, WLBU radio will expand its equipment which will increase the station's capacity and efficiency. WLBU will also be able to increase the station's broadcast coverage area.

Administration reevaluates M.B.A. program

By CHRISTOPHER HOLDEN

Oscaran Professor

Dr. Frank Forbus, chairman of the Department of Business and Government at Liberty University, said that the department will be considering the possibility of reevaluating the M.B.A. program in the future.

Forbus said that the M.B.A. program has been successful in preparing students for careers in business, but that the department is considering the possibility of reevaluating the program to ensure that it meets the needs of the business community.

WLBU radio total near $60,000

The improvements for WLBU television include furthering all television programs and upgrading standards, thus keeping in tune with the technology of the television age. The installation of new equipment will also give WLBU total a competitive edge.

In addition to the equipment, WLBU television plans to produce a news program titled "News Watch." The program will be available on local cable systems.

The station's music format will be broad- cast throughout the day and the evening. WLBU radio will also be available on the local radio network.

The installation of the equipment should be completed in the middle of October, according to Wilson. The station plans to begin programming as soon as possible.

SACS Committee leaves positive report

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) said it was pleased with the progress LU has made in all areas during a visit last week. President A. Pierre Guillermin said Monday.

The committee commented that the university has made excellent progress in the areas of business, education and government. The university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

The committee also commented that the university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

WLBU equipment will expand program

The telecommunications department is looking forward to the installation of new and refurbished equipment at WLBU radio and television, which will improve the curricula for all television and radio programs.

According to the Telecommunications Department, WLBU radio will expand its equipment which will increase the station's capacity and efficiency. WLBU will also be able to increase the station's broadcast coverage area.

Administration reevaluates M.B.A. program

By CHRISTOPHER HOLDEN

Oscaran Professor

Dr. Frank Forbus, chairman of the Department of Business and Government at Liberty University, said that the department will be considering the possibility of reevaluating the M.B.A. program in the future.

Forbus said that the M.B.A. program has been successful in preparing students for careers in business, but that the department is considering the possibility of reevaluating the program to ensure that it meets the needs of the business community.

WLBU radio total near $60,000

The improvements for WLBU television include furthering all television programs and upgrading standards, thus keeping in tune with the technology of the television age. The installation of new equipment will also give WLBU total a competitive edge.

In addition to the equipment, WLBU television plans to produce a news program titled "News Watch." The program will be available on local cable systems.

The station's music format will be broad- cast throughout the day and the evening. WLBU radio will also be available on the local radio network.

The installation of the equipment should be completed in the middle of October, according to Wilson. The station plans to begin programming as soon as possible.

SACS Committee leaves positive report

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) said it was pleased with the progress LU has made in all areas during a visit last week. President A. Pierre Guillermin said Monday.

The committee commented that the university has made excellent progress in the areas of business, education and government. The university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

The committee also commented that the university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

WLBU equipment will expand program

The telecommunications department is looking forward to the installation of new and refurbished equipment at WLBU radio and television, which will improve the curricula for all television and radio programs.

According to the Telecommunications Department, WLBU radio will expand its equipment which will increase the station's capacity and efficiency. WLBU will also be able to increase the station's broadcast coverage area.

Administration reevaluates M.B.A. program

By CHRISTOPHER HOLDEN

Oscaran Professor

Dr. Frank Forbus, chairman of the Department of Business and Government at Liberty University, said that the department will be considering the possibility of reevaluating the M.B.A. program in the future.

Forbus said that the M.B.A. program has been successful in preparing students for careers in business, but that the department is considering the possibility of reevaluating the program to ensure that it meets the needs of the business community.

WLBU radio total near $60,000

The improvements for WLBU television include furthering all television programs and upgrading standards, thus keeping in tune with the technology of the television age. The installation of new equipment will also give WLBU total a competitive edge.

In addition to the equipment, WLBU television plans to produce a news program titled "News Watch." The program will be available on local cable systems.

The station's music format will be broad- cast throughout the day and the evening. WLBU radio will also be available on the local radio network.

The installation of the equipment should be completed in the middle of October, according to Wilson. The station plans to begin programming as soon as possible.

SACS Committee leaves positive report

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) said it was pleased with the progress LU has made in all areas during a visit last week. President A. Pierre Guillermin said Monday.

The committee commented that the university has made excellent progress in the areas of business, education and government. The university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

The committee also commented that the university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

WLBU equipment will expand program

The telecommunications department is looking forward to the installation of new and refurbished equipment at WLBU radio and television, which will improve the curricula for all television and radio programs.

According to the Telecommunications Department, WLBU radio will expand its equipment which will increase the station's capacity and efficiency. WLBU will also be able to increase the station's broadcast coverage area.

Administration reevaluates M.B.A. program

By CHRISTOPHER HOLDEN

Oscaran Professor

Dr. Frank Forbus, chairman of the Department of Business and Government at Liberty University, said that the department will be considering the possibility of reevaluating the M.B.A. program in the future.

Forbus said that the M.B.A. program has been successful in preparing students for careers in business, but that the department is considering the possibility of reevaluating the program to ensure that it meets the needs of the business community.

WLBU radio total near $60,000

The improvements for WLBU television include furthering all television programs and upgrading standards, thus keeping in tune with the technology of the television age. The installation of new equipment will also give WLBU total a competitive edge.

In addition to the equipment, WLBU television plans to produce a news program titled "News Watch." The program will be available on local cable systems.

The station's music format will be broad- cast throughout the day and the evening. WLBU radio will also be available on the local radio network.

The installation of the equipment should be completed in the middle of October, according to Wilson. The station plans to begin programming as soon as possible.

SACS Committee leaves positive report

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) said it was pleased with the progress LU has made in all areas during a visit last week. President A. Pierre Guillermin said Monday.

The committee commented that the university has made excellent progress in the areas of business, education and government. The university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.

The committee also commented that the university's new cafeteria, Reynolds Hall, will improve the curriculum for students in the arts and sciences.
Battle for High Court dominance centers on Thomas

"To Bork or not to Bork, that is the question." The confirmation hearings for Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas have begun, and the battle lines are clear. On one side are liberals, democrats, feminists and several militant groups who oppose Thomas. On the other side are conservatives, Republicans and most members of the "Reagan coalition" who fully support Thomas and hope to see the court tilted still farther in a conservative direction.

Not since the dark days of the Robert Bork hearings, when liberals united to mount a legendary smear campaign, has a nominee polarized a nation as Thomas has. Many people see this nomination as pivotal in the fight for philosophical dominance on the High Court.

One leader of a liberal organization that opposes Thomas vowed, "We will Bork him," in reference to Bork’s failed nomination.

Several senators, including Ted Kennedy and Joseph Biden, have been SMART in their opposition to Thomas. They in this instance the mandate to probe the power of the federal government, to dismantle many of the misguided civil rights and welfare programs enacted in recent times and ultimately reverse the sanction of life by reversing Roe v. Wade.

Their fears are understandable. Thomas is a conservative who believes in original intent. The Constitution says what it would have meant to the founding fathers and the original lock-in would have been to establish a flag symbolizing the Civil War and what that flag really stands for. I stand before you today (emphatically, of course, because I’m still not sure I am safe for me to walk the streets) I think that things have changed, but it’s simply a matter that the fact is there was no such thing. That was my mistake.

Anyway, several groups are preparing to pop-up in my email box and would like to know what I think of the fact that Michigan is a definitely NORTHERTH of the Mason-Dixon Line. For some reason a lot of people considered this to be pretty exciting point.

Secondly, I do not now, or do ever plan to lean Southerners. The article was not an attack of even- ryone this side of the Mason-Dixon. It was an simply an opinion on going overboard with regional pride and on displaying a flag that symbolizes the Civil War.

Witch will change everything for the "national hero" as it was referred to in one letter. I concede the right to display it.

A person’s heritage should be important. Isn’t it interesting that today I refer to a Southern colleague to his flag without that “national hero” as it was referred to in one letter. I concede the right to display it.

A person’s heritage should be important. Isn’t it interesting that today I refer to a Southern colleague to his flag without that "national hero" as it was referred to in one letter. I concede the right to display it.

Why change things? I was happy the privilege of going to Appomattox, Virginia, where the Civil War ended. I stood on the same ground, walked through the same streets, and breathed the same air as any soldier of youg man who fought or for whom they believed.

I saw the trial where Confederate soldiers marched during the last days of the war, and the Court House where a General Grant accepted Lee’s surrender. I read about the battles and their ancestors who fought and died. The Civil War and what the South began shelling Ft Sumter to some extent.

Confederate Congress established the Confederacy and the Confederate flag and they fought to protect the South. I do not understand how any­body, in hindsight, can support states uniting to kill fellow countrymen over their differences behind us and stop al­ready wish they had won? Would they be proud to still own slaves?

From what I know about the Civil War, we, Northern and Southern, should put our differences behind us and stop al­most as we do now when both sides fought on the same side of the fence. For what I know about the Civil War, I’d pay fifty cents any day to fly a flag, any flag, that would once again represent the flag of one of the southern states in our history. And the South would not object to that.

From what I know about the Civil War, we, Northern and Southern, should put our differences behind us and stop al­ready wish they had won? Would they be proud to still own slaves?

From what I know about the Civil War, I’d pay fifty cents any day to fly a flag, any flag, that would once again represent the flag of one of the southern states in our history. And the South would not object to that.

The Champion Forum Policies

The Champion welcomes members of the Liberty com­munity to submit letters to the editor on any subject. Letters should not exceed 300 words and must be signed. The Champion reserves the right to accept, reject or edit any letter received, ac­cording to the policies of The Champion.

The deadline for all letters is Thursday. Please address all letters to "Editor, The Champion" and drop them off in DH 109 or mail to Box 2258.

The Champion Forum

The Champion welcomes members of the Liberty com­munity to submit letters to the editor on any subject. Letters should not exceed 300 words and must be signed. The Champion reserves the right to accept, reject or edit any letter received, ac­cording to the policies of The Champion.

The deadline for all letters is Thursday. Please address all letters to "Editor, The Champion" and drop them off in DH 109 or mail to Box 2258.

The Firing Line

Fan mail flags flame flag folly

By Douglas R. Dempsey

Douglas R. Dempsey

Dear Editor,

An old column of mine titled "Hang the Confederate Flag" has come to mind recently. Words are not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court words is not the role of the Supreme Court

During the past week I’ve been greatly edu­cated on exactly what happened during the Civil War and what that flag really stands for. I stand before you today (emphatically, of course, because I’m still not sure I am safe for me to walk the streets) I think that things have changed, but it’s simply a matter that the fact is there was no such thing. That was my mistake.

Anyway, several groups are preparing to pop-up in my email box and would like to know what I think of the fact that Michigan is a definitely NORTHERTH of the Mason-Dixon Line. For some reason a lot of people considered this to be pretty exciting point.

Secondly, I do not now, or do ever plan to lean Southerners. The article was not an attack of even- ryone this side of the Mason-Dixon. It was an simply an opinion on going overboard with regional pride and on displaying a flag that symbolizes the Civil War.

Witch will change everything for the "national hero" as it was referred to in one letter. I concede the right to display it.

A person’s heritage should be important. Isn’t it interesting that today I refer to a Southern colleague to his flag without that "national hero" as it was referred to in one letter. I concede the right to display it.

A person’s heritage should be important. Isn’t it interesting that today I refer to a Southern colleague to his flag without that "national hero" as it was referred to in one letter. I concede the right to display it.

Why change things? I was happy the privilege of going to Appomattox, Virginia, where the Civil War ended. I stood on the same ground, walked through the same streets, and breathed the same air as any soldier of youg man who fought or for whom they believed.

I saw the trial where Confederate soldiers marched during the last days of the war, and the Court House where a General Grant accepted Lee’s surrender. I read about the battles and their ancestors who fought and died. The Civil War and what the South began shelling Ft Sumter to some extent.

Confederate Congress established the Confederacy and the Confederate flag and they fought to protect the South. I do not understand how any­body, in hindsight, can support states uniting to kill fellow countrymen over their differences behind us and stop al­ready wish they had won? Would they be proud to still own slaves?

From what I know about the Civil War, we, Northern and Southern, should put our differences behind us and stop al­ready wish they had won? Would they be proud to still own slaves?

From what I know about the Civil War, I’d pay fifty cents any day to fly a flag, any flag, that would once again represent the flag of one of the southern states in our history. And the South would not object to that.
Is the end of socialism at hand?

By DALE JOHNSTON

Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1991

Is the end of socialism at hand? I think that the USSR would be, in substance, a different nation 10 years from now. The "USSR" stand for the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. I think that the end of socialism will be similar countries.

Freedom is the most important thing. Freedom is not a political concern only, but also an economic one. A man that is free to work and make a living, and to which he can earn it and distribute it to those who don't have it. This increases the people's motivation and willingness to work.

Frankly, I am unimpressed. May I establish the fact that socialism and communism are not the same thing. Socialism is a system where the government controls the economy and the means of production. Communism is a system where the government owns everything and distributes it to the people.

One fact I have managed to glean from all the chaos is that the goal of the Soviet Union is freedom. Freedom to speak, to worship, to travel, to work.

The bond that the nations must have is an economic and defensive one, and not an economic and cultural one. I have been critical of the United States and our current government, and I still believe that traditionalist, economically independent people should be the ones in charge.

The bond that the nations must have is an economic and defensive one. In the past, the United States has always supported the traditionalist, economically independent people. This is because the United States is a weaker neighbor, our resources are not that vast, and we need to be able to defend ourselves.

The bond that the nations must have is an economic and defensive one. The United States has always supported the traditionalist, economically independent people.

Well, actually it does not require that much to keep your body fit — running a few miles a day, eating the right foods. Unless you have an underlying medical condition or are trying to lose or gain weight, nothing much. The point is to get your body moving.

"After all, if I just watch what I eat I'll never have to exercise," Kenney said. "This is not the case. Nutrition and exercise could be the key to reducing your risk of heart disease and other health problems.

Another reason to be active is because exercise and eating right help you stay in shape. If you're eating right, you'll feel better. If you're not eating right, you'll feel worse.

The author of Fit and Flattened, Steve Esposito, is a personal trainer and nutritionist. He says that nutrition is important for anyone who wants to lose weight.

"When you're watching your weight or trying to lose weight, you need to be reminded of the importance of nutrition and exercise," he said.

"You see, we begin our meetings by thinking about the United States, putting the flag proudly displayed, opening old wounds. Instead, I hope to point out that the flag represents something more.

If Mr. Dempsey is going to attend school in a southern state, he needs to take his schoolwork seriously and study the things that are important. He might also want to consider joining a club or other organization to meet new people.

This entire article has been a hoax. The reason why I am writing this article is to get people to think about the things that are important in life and to realize that they are not enough to just live day by day.
Fulfill all your communications requirements with one course.

AmrSTUDENT SAVER PLUS

If you're looking for a simple way to handle all of your communications needs, there's one prerequisite: Join AT&T Student Saver Plus. You'll be able to get an entire line of products and services designed specifically to save college students time and money.

- Our Reach Out® America Calling Plans could save you money, no matter where and when you call. CallManager will save you time by separating your long distance calls from your roommates' calls for free. And the AT&T Calling Card makes it easy to call from almost anywhere to anywhere. And with AT&T, you'll always get the most reliable long distance service.
- Plus, if you register for any of our services—or if you're already an AT&T customer—you'll get a free hour's worth of AT&T long distance calling. As well as discounts on all kinds of things, all year round.

So ask about AT&T Student Saver Plus. You'll find that for this communications course, we did our homework.

Join AT&T Student Saver Plus today. Call 1 800 654-0471 Ext. 4810.

©1991 AT&T

[Image of woman talking on the phone]
Denson teaches youth

By DARRIN K. LONEY
New Editor
Liberty University welcomes gospel singer and songwriter Al Denson in concert in the Multi-Purpose Center on Friday, Sept. 20, at 7:30 p.m.
Denson signed a contract with Benson Records on an understanding that the recording company is scheduled to release this fall. â€œThe recording was in 1985 entitledâ€œStand Up!â€œ
In 1987 and 1988, Denson recorded the Psalms and â€œJoy and Praiseâ€œ and released the acclaimed album â€œThe Black is My Colorâ€œ
Denson said that the greatest challenge was â€œPromising the Gospel of Christ in a culturally relevant way, so that the American youth would listen.â€œ
And he compares the quality of education to the way that Christians should go and make disciples of people of all ages and from all walks of life.
"We want to spend time and talk about God,â€œ Denson said.
"I tell them first that God loves them, in fact, He really wants them.
He has loved them and He will love them forever, and He will talk to them about the second problem, which is sin.
They come to see that you have to admit that you're guilty, and that you stand up and talk about the first problem, and then He will talk to them about the first problem, and then He will talk to them about the first problem.
Denson reaches youth through multiple avenues. He always "enjoy an unusual selection of churches and enjoy the church setting.â€œ
Denson attended the University of Houston when he was a senior. During that high school concert, he presented an interesting and unique perspective to the world about the American mind, body and soul of our young people.

Denson teaches youth

By ABRAHAM PAFFORD
Champion Reporter
LU professor Dr. David Miller and Ann Whitten have collaborated on a book entitled Help! I'm Not a Perfect Parent.
Miller, a professor of counseling at LU, said the book is aimed primarily at Christian parents who are looking for ways to teach their children about the Battle for the Soul of America each year. He is also a member of the National Academy of Sciences.
Miller said he enjoys the collaboration and the battle of the souls. He is always looking for more opportunities to discuss the topic. He is interested in having his book used in the classroom. He is also interested in having his book used in the classroom.
He is also interested in having his book used in the classroom.
One area in particular that Miller enjoys is the collaboration and the battle of the souls. He is always looking for more opportunities to discuss the topic. He is interested in having his book used in the classroom. He is also interested in having his book used in the classroom.

Professors co-author book

By ABRAHAM PAFFORD
Champion Reporter
LU professor Dr. David Miller and Ann Whitten have collaborated on a book entitled Help! I'm Not a Perfect Parent.
Miller, a professor of counseling at LU, said the book is aimed primarily at Christian parents who are looking for ways to teach their children about the Battle for the Soul of America each year. He is also a member of the National Academy of Sciences.
Miller said he enjoys the collaboration and the battle of the souls. He is always looking for more opportunities to discuss the topic. He is interested in having his book used in the classroom. He is also interested in having his book used in the classroom.
One area in particular that Miller enjoys is the collaboration and the battle of the souls. He is always looking for more opportunities to discuss the topic. He is interested in having his book used in the classroom. He is also interested in having his book used in the classroom.

Promote walks safely

By Becky Griggs
Champion Reporter
It's time to be involved. It's time to take our share of the burden and do our share of the work. It's time to be involved.
"We need to do this," Denson said. "We need to work together to ensure that everyone who wants to be involved can be involved."
Baseball

Champion Sports

Truck and jacket, dewy way, wait. Major League Baseball/Com- mendation Award which he officially received the merriest of the surprise.

Leaguemaster (M.L.B.) officially announced on Wednesday, Sept. 26, that the single-season home run record now belongs to Maris. The 37-year-old Maris "shared" the home run record for 30 years, to the day, with Roger Maris, who has been penalized. Anyone who has seen the game since 1961 would not Mater to place the dreaded asterisk after Maris' name be­ cause he was bored and missed his participation. When she arrived, however, her high-school tennis lessons first season on the varsity team. She has proved to be a force in the program is more competitive than the one she tried out. Undaunted, Tan­ ner said. "The coach and the men's team coach". The following season on the varsity team. She also played on the men's team. She

Women's soccer ties VWC

*By VETTE HANSEN

The Lady Flames soccer team battled to a 2-2 tie in its second game of the season against Virginia Wesleyan College Saturday, Sept. 21.

The Lady Flames offense put forth a strong effort. The Flames were now tied at 2-2.

Liberty's Tracy Cantlin kicks at the ball during the Flames' game against Virginia Wesleyan College Saturday, Sept. 21.

By DANIELLE PETERS

The Lady Flames, 2-0-1 after the first half, moved into the lead on a second drive that resulted in a 2-1 lead. Flames 10-yard drive sealed the Lady Flames with an 0-3-1 record for the season.

In the second half, Muhammad traded the ball to forward James O'Toole for a 1-0 lead. Flames 10-yard drive sealed the Lady Flames with an 0-3-1 record for the season.

Photograph by Jeltrey A. Cola

By BRIAN SPENCING

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.

Men's soccer seeks first win

Photograph by Champion Reporter

The Liberty University men's soccer team finished third in the KWIK Goal Classic Soccer Classic in Ohio last weekend. Bowling Green State University and Duquesne University took first and second respectively in their four-game tournament at the University of Illinois-Chicago on the weekend.

The game was tied at two. The first half of the overtime, the game started to get rough; and the referee stopped the game's final score at 31-7.
The Champion Reporter

New NCAA rule helps athletes in classes

By BYJEE PIERRE

The Lynn University women's cross country team is looking forward to the cross country season with enthusiasm despite the new NCAA regulations that limit the number of hours that student-athletes can be involved in athletic activities. The Lynn Lady Flames are currently in the process of adhering to the new rules and are determined to make the most of their limited time on the field.

Women finish second; men finish third at Old Dominion Cross Country Invitational

At the Old Dominion Cross Country Invitational, the women's team placed second while the men's team finished third.

About W.V. Tech

West Virginia Tech is coming off a disappointing season last year. The Golden Bears are led by quarterback Jerry Lauer, who is expected to lead the team to success in the upcoming season. Lauer has a strong supporting cast, including a powerful running game and a stingy defense.

About Liberty University

Liberty University is coming off a disappointing season last year as well. However, the Flames have a solid core of returning players, including a strong defense and a potent offense. The team is looking to build on last year's success and compete for a conference title.

About Virginia

Virginia is a consistent program, with a strong tradition and a strong coaching staff. The Cavaliers have a solid foundation and are looking to build on their success in the upcoming season.

About Golden Bears

The Golden Bears are a solid team, with a strong defense and a balanced offense. They are looking to build on their success from last season and make a name for themselves in the conference.

About Liberty Flames

Liberty Flames are a talented team with a strong defense and a potent offense. They are looking to build on their success from last season and make a name for themselves in the conference.

About Virginia Cavaliers

Virginia Cavaliers are a strong program with a solid tradition and a strong coaching staff. They are looking to build on their success from last season and make a name for themselves in the conference.

About Golden Bears

Golden Bears are a solid team, with a strong defense and a balanced offense. They are looking to build on their success from last season and make a name for themselves in the conference.

About Liberty Flames

Liberty Flames are a talented team with a strong defense and a potent offense. They are looking to build on their success from last season and make a name for themselves in the conference.

About Virginia Cavaliers

Virginia Cavaliers are a strong program with a solid tradition and a strong coaching staff. They are looking to build on their success from last season and make a name for themselves in the conference.
The following is an excerpt from an interview conducted backstage after the Mylon and Broken Heart concert.

CHAMPION: Do people tend to focus on your past with drugs and rock music instead of what you're doing now?

MYLON: "I think there is an emphasis on the past. I think people listen to us because they can relate to us. We've made the mistakes that a lot of them are tempted to make."

CHAMPION: Is that frustrating?

MYLON: "I think what's more frustrating than for people to get hung up on the drugs and rock music is when they misinterpret our purpose. Our purpose is not necessarily to make contemporary Christian music but to minister the Word of God. Don't get me wrong, though. I'm thankful for the talent, the music..." (Mylon grabs a mini-cassette recorder, plays with it, and notices the tape has stopped moving.)

MYLON: "Oh wait, now it's moving again. Where's the mike? I just love to record. I thought one of those for each of the guys in the band to write songs, and I never saw them again (laugh)."

CHAMPION: What do you think is the greatest need of today's youth?

MYLON: "I think they need to understand Christ, to understand His Word. Anybody that can read it can know what it says. But the One who wrote it knows what it means."

"Anybody who does that — finds out what His Word means — it changes their life. People really need the Lord." (Mylon picks up the tape recorder and begins singing 'People need the Lord') (Mylon reaches deep within himself during one of the songs performed Friday night at E.C. Glass Auditorium.)

MYLON: "I heard Steve Green singing that on the way over today. Cool song."

CHAMPION: Do you get a lot of criticism from other Christians because of your music or appearance?

MYLON: "It always goes on. There will always be narrow-minded people who believe criticism is a gift of the Holy Spirit (laugh), and that finding fault with others is a ministry."

CHAMPION: How do you handle it?

MYLON: "I think what God has shown us to do is avoid the whole process. Just keep our eyes on Him and know that no weapon formed against us shall prosper. He (Jesus) is the only One who really knows you. What is everyone else going to do? They listen to your records and read about you, but they don't know you. He's the only One that really knows our hearts."

CHAMPION: Is there anyone in Christian music today you particularly admire?

MYLON: "I have to be very careful with this one because if I leave somebody out, I'll hurt their feelings. I'll tell you somebody I really look up to. That guy I was sitting here talking to, Dean Emerick. That guy really loves Jesus. He was so real with me. Man, he cut to the chase. He cut through the fat, and we got to discussing Jesus. It was cool. It was great. (Mylon begins playing with the tape again and it stops running.)

MYLON: "Whoops! Okay, I'll stop playing with it. (Laugh) 'Stop playing with the equipment, LeFevre.' I guess notebooks are low-tech now."

CHAMPION: Do you ever get tired of road life?

MYLON: "Yes. I think if there was a way to serve God by laying around on the beach and sipping lemonade I'd probably have to volunteer for that gig. (Laugh) But He said to go into all the world and preach and teach disciples."