The right to die: "hot issue, covered by just about every newspaper, magazine and medical journal. It concerns some to raise eyebrows at the very mention of the idea, and others to look for a fight.

The most recent publicized case involves a pathologist with a homemade suicide machine and a 54-year-old grand- mother who had been diagnosed as being in the early stages of Alzheimer's disease. (Please see related story, Page 3.)

"Fat Man" not true historical account of A-bomb
By Dr. Homer Blass

On a historical basis, I second the idea that the movie "Fat Man" not true historical account of A-bomb; the film shows Oppenheimer as a man of the people, whereas he was a master politician. The film portrays Oppenheimer as more of a scientist, whereas in reality he was a shrewd politician. The film's portrayal of Oppenheimer is inaccurate and is not a true factual account of his life. Oppenheimer's role in the development of the atomic bomb was significant, but the film fails to capture his true character. The film's portrayal of the atomic bomb is one-dimensional and fails to capture the complexity of the event. Flat Flames fall to Villanova
Third quarter outburst 10 sacks send eighth-ranked Flames, Justino reeling
By KEVIN M. BLOYE

It was a warm, sunny afternoon in Philadelphia Saturday afternoon. Liberty quarterback Robby Justino was forced to look at the clear, blue sky and reason that he probably had won.

Justino, previously unbeknownst to any card or team at any level is a remarkable feat. The sky is so clear, the ball was visible on the field.

The Flames' defense, which had sacked only once in their last four games, sacked the horns four times in the second quarter and three times in the third of the final quarter for a total of seven sacks.

The Flames lost their first football game of the year against the Hornets. Although the Hornets are ranked seventh in the NCAA, they were not lacking in confidence.

The Flames have struggled with confidence on offense and defense. The team has lost nine of its last 10 games, and it appears apparent that Liberty is still learning how to win games.

But the Flames are still on development.

The Flames scored their first touchdown on a 9-yard touchdown run by Mark Thomas. The touchdown was the first of Thomas' college career.

"We're excited about our team and the way we're playing together," Justino said. "They put in the mileage over the summer."
McConnell is a junior from Marietta, Ga. He started last season with 31 tackles, one tackle for loss, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery, but he hopes to improve this year.

"We were outstanding on defense," said Sam Rutigliano. "We can count on him no matter who we play.

Seifert statistics show McConnell stands out with an impressive 65 tackles and two quarterback sacks. "It's an outstanding athlete with the ability to go pro," Rutigliano said.

Although McConnell's first goal is to go professional, his ambition is to continue his career in stride. "I really enjoy football," he said. "People make the game so fun. I just go out there and relax and have fun!"

Consequently, he has been a main force in guiding the Flames toward a fourth conference championship. "We were tough," McConnell said. "He makes big plays in games and rises to the occasion. He could play anywhere in the country if he wanted to.

Not only has McConnell excelled as an individual, he is also a "team player," Rutigliano said. "Wes takes the pressure off;" his coach added. "I know he's doing it and that gives us time to work with the other players.

McConnell believes as the season has progressed, the Flames have grown closer as a group and better as a unit. "We're a lot closer than last year, and we only win one or two games," McConnell said. "I think the team is doing good. Our first game we were passive. We still need to improve our aggressiveness.

However, Rutigliano said McConnell is still difficult at him. "I can't show him the opposite side of the jersey," he said.

In addition to his professional goals, McConnell founds in work with inner-city kids. "I'd like to start an anti-drug program back at home," he said. "I want to be a role model for the kids.

McConnell set three goals because of the Lord's guidance in his life. When he arrived at Liberty, he experienced some trials. "I was getting down on myself a little when I first got to Liberty," he said. "The Answer was right in front of me. I needed to take it.

One of his high school friends, Richard Skelton, influenced McConnell to make a decision in a hurry. "It was between Liberty and Georgia Southern. And in a last-minute decision I came to LU," McConnell said. "I'm glad I did it and it ended up here.

However, motivating McConnell is not difficult at all. "I just need to see the answer I came to LU," McConnell said. "The Answer I came to LU."

The Flames drove through their first match against Furman University, winning 15-13, 15-11, 15-10, and Laura Miller, who was placed on Outstanding Player of the tournament. She contributed 19 digs and 15 kills for the Flames in a tense situation. "UNC controlled our emotions and came out with a little bit more enthusiasm," Thomas said.

The Flames continued to heat up going into the second game with a four set of 19-17. "The fans helped us get going," Thomas said.

Forwarded the final spike point the Flames defeated UNC-Greensboro 15-13, 15-11, 16-14.

The Lady Flames have two home meets for the Lady Flames this week: UNC-Greensboro and Radford. The second is Oct 27, replacing the Kent State Invitational.

The Flames finished fifth behind Carolina-Wilmington, Texas A&M, North Carolina and William & Mary. On the heels of Saturday's loss they won two matches against Radford.

I would've bought a Macintosh even without the student discount.

Greg Gallent
Consumer Economics and Housing
Cornell University

"The first time I saw a Macintosh, I was immediately hooked. It's a work of art. I saw the student pricing and my next move was obvious: get one.

"Some other computers are cheaper, but they're a pain to learn, and working on them can be a grueling experience. Last year, a friend bought another kind of computer against my advice and has used it for maybe 15 hours. What a waste.

"Macintosh, on the other hand, is a logical extension of the mind. It lets you concentrate on what's in your paper, not on how to get it on paper. You can create professional-looking documents in minutes, and you lose the fear of learning new programs because they all work in the same way. "Once you've worked with a Macintosh, there's no turning back."
