Telephone abuse costs thousands

By JIM HORTON

Liberty Communication Services spends approximately $3,000 each week on phone maintenance for work that often itself constitutes vandalism of dorm phones. Maintenance manager Wayne Dorsett reported that his department receives an average of 200 work orders each week for phone maintenance. Of those 200, 150 are dorm phones, and 125 of those are the result of phone carelessness or vandalism, he said.

"Of those 200, 150 are dorm phones, and of all of the work orders we receive, some are quite legitimate," Dorsett continued. "However, the majority of the work orders we receive are quite unnecessary," he said.

"The highest number of work orders we have ever received is more than 400 for one week. The phone system has progressed to the point where you can not only make a call, but you can make a call from your phone to the phone itself," Dorsett said.

"For example, a girl receiving prank calls might request to have her phone number changed. A work order for this type of problem would be recorded as a legitimate work order," Dorsett continued.

"In the future, we hope to eliminate the need for students to order service through the phone, but instead of paying the $15 fee to change the phone number, she tried to do it herself and broke the phone. Usually the telephones are beyond repair. She found it hard to play a more prominent role in the play, especially when it seemed that her character was not fully developed. She wanted to be farther from the people she was playing with. If you see someone who is a bratty son, you need to be farther from them, too," Dorsett said.

"If you need more help, the phone system has progressed to a point where you can not only make a call, but you can make a call from your phone to the phone itself," he added. LU security provides services which allow university to function

Security. It's a subject about which some students have a strong opinion and most are not bashful about expressing it. After all, what does campus security do? Officers seem to spend all day watching parking and speeding tickets, guarding the main doors from drug dealers and directing traffic during the 4:30 p.m. rush. All of these activities seem reasonable assignments for the average force.

However, it's easy to develop a negative attitude while waiting outside for an eternity to security for service and turn off all of his lights. Maybe there is not one of society's duties: they turn off the alarm as a favor to electronic services. Yet when they do arrive, it's usually to deem of "It's about time." To compensate matters, while the security officers turn on the alarm someone is busy letting the air out of his tires. Although this doesn't happen every day there have been three incidents of this in the past two weeks. This in turn delays security in providing needed services, such as emergency medical care.

Students often voice the complaint of the efficiency of the security force is too slow for much of the administrative problems. Every day someone locks himself out of his car, discovers his watch is missing or spots a stranger lurking around the dorms. These difficulties may seem minor, yet the student listening to a fire alarm, but they are casuaphoric to the people reporting the problems. Security services to direct traffic, prevent potential dangers situations and deter vandalism. Despite the frustration students sometimes feel about security, the campus could not function without it.

Circle K Club deserves recognition for attitude

To some Christians being a servant fits in somewhere between an African slave named Kunta Kinte out of Roots and those thousands of individuals migrant workers who populate the farmfields and orchards across America at harvest time. Fortunately the Liberty University Circle K Club has not fallen into the trap. Not many people have heard of Circle K; and if they have, they picture of convenience stores or dude ranches often comes to mind. Some clubs who have not been noticed are those of being known all over campus or the community. Others would state at the idea of not having a membership table in the students' union is "boring."

While more members are always encouraged to join, Circle K Club finds itself as a publicly-seeking club. Each year Circle K Club has one main goal. Liberty Champions have already raised enough money is raised to support all of the many community service projects in which the club members participate.

Thousands of dollars are spent each year by LU Circle K to provide needed commodities for various community organizations. In addition, club members put more than 400 hours of manual labor for these organizations, doing everything from painting a home for girls to being a bell ringer for the Salvation Army at Christmas time. Never has the LU Circle K Club tough publicly for any of their community service acts. For this they are commended.

In a world where everybody wants to be recognized but few want to help somebody, the LU Circle K Club is a wonderful example of the authentic servanthood found in Mark 16:24. For even the sons of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many."

Presence provides guidelines for dating

Dr. A. Pierre Guerin

Question: Should we talk about the meaning of marriage, family, values and attitudes today? This question is about a serious dating relationship. Advanced: Dating is a process where two people have an opportunity to learn more about themselves and the other person involved. It will cause to share interests, values and attitudes about life.

When a dating interaction signals are exchanged that indicate if a sexual relationship is appropriate, it is probably should be discontinued. The following are some of what I consider the "danger signals in dating."

• Frequent quarreling: It is normal to have argument. But if it is bad enough that disagreement occurs; however, if it becomes quarrelsome and frequent, it means a serious relationship. If a couple becomes more violent, it is a danger signal that they should not be involved.

• Desire to change partners: If you are ever dating someone in a serious dating situation, it's never a good time to decide to like another person more, even though a couple becomes more serious about each other physically, it is a danger signal that should not be ignored. The personal relationship which is part of marriage should be experienced only when marriage is considered. Unfortunately, a young couple allow their emotions and physical interest to become too strong in their relationship, they are not serious about their relationship but also to any given situation is of serious concern. When a person experiences deep depression or extreme or serious symptoms of any other person is a serious concern. A person may turn to someone else, more to their own friends, they are serious concern to the person and loved ones who do not have a serious concern to themselves.

The Liberty men's soccer team lifted its record to 11-5-2 this week with a game-winning streak, winning seven of its last eight games. Senior John Davis and sophomore Jeff Alder helped push the Flames to a 2-0 victory over Columbia last week. "I'm just trusting the Lord," senior John Davis said. "I'm just trying to continue in a Christian manner and enjoy what I'm doing on the field." Davis said he was among the team leaders in goals this season. He explained that the team's progress was due to the improved defense and the confidence it has in itself. "The defense has been a big part of our success," Davis said. The Flames' volleyball team was one point away from being swept 3-0 by James Madison in Liberty Gym on Halloween night. With an 8-7 deficit coming into the match, another third set sweep would have put James Madison's "script" in perfect order.

However, as we scrambled to escape the Flames' net the球 was only too well and an Oklahoma shooting guard gave the Flames a 2-0 lead in the fourth set.

"I actually prefer having to fight hard to win a game," Bream said after the game. "I like to have an improvement plan for each game, even if it's just to keep the game alive."

In the fourth game the Flames fell behind early but they refused to give up. Bream and Thomas kept Liberty on the court, and the Flames went on to win the match 3-2.

"It seemed like when we were getting down so many points, they would just score, but it never happened today," Bream said. "I'm very encouraged by the performance, Hall said. "The team has been working hard, and I believe the college game is going to be much more difficult."

McCrory takes charge on LQ scoring list

“Give me the ball on fourth and goal on the one yard line. With one second left on the play, [you] don’t have the time to run all the way over the top line,” McCray fantasized about the perfect play.

The Flames failed in the opening drive of the first quarter for three straight downs on the Liberty 35.

However, two plays later, the Flames took control of the game at the 28 and ran McCray up the middle with a naked man in the flat to make the score 7-0.

McCray, a former high school basketball player, was able to score from the one yard line, giving the Flames the lead.

McCray then scored again in the second quarter for a 14-0 lead.

In the first quarter, McCray also scored on a 32-yard field goal to open the Flames’ lead to 10-0.

McCray’s performance was highly observed as he ran for 127 yards on 24 carries for a combined total of 24 yards on only 11 carries.

However, the game is not over yet. McCray still needs to make a statement in the fourth quarter to solidify his position in the lineup.
