All of the great things concerning Liberty Baptist Colleges, there is none greater than the students.

And this year the incoming freshman class will double what it was last year, making this the greatest year yet. As of Tuesday, August 15, 955 new students have been accepted and over 1,400 applications have been received. Some of these applications are being received daily, director of admissions, Tom Sills told the Ansonian-Champian. The expectation for this fall is 2,300 students.

Dr. Guillermin expects a potential of 5,000 resident students of any kind for the fall semester — public or private, Christian or secular.

Lyman H. Willmington, dean of Thomas Road Baptist Institute, and Lynchburg Christian Academy, explained that about 100 college-age high school students are married and have child, which is far above the national norm, according to John Baker said. This will multiply the growth Sunday School and church services at Thomas Road Baptist Church.

Because of the availability of students at LBC, Treasure Island and the Downtown Campus will again be used for dormitories.

15,000 Club Serves Students As Backbone For Low Tuition

Because of the 15,000 Club, Liberty Baptist College is the least expensive four-year college of any kind for residents of Liberty County, Dr. Guillermin said.

Another great thing about LBC this fall was the fact that several coaches coached Dowling. This should be the strongest football team ever, but Dowling has a good selection of top-notch assistant coaches.

The 15,000 Club was started two years ago. It has been very successful. It will be going for the fall semester.

A person becomes a member of the 15,000 Club by contributing a $100 scholarship to LBC. The club began when LBC began in 1971. In 1970, $50 scholarships were needed, it was known as the 10,000 Club.

Two years later, Dr. Falwell changed the name of the club to 15,000 Club — his son's name — and it is a group of parents across the country who send their completed tests.

Last year, the club had more than 90,000 students, contributing some $8 million to LBC.

The 40,000 members called last year were those who have paid their $100 scholarships in full. Some are still paying on an installment plan.

The goal this year is to double that figure, with 80,000 members. And, with last year's figures, the club is growing at a rate of two-week phenomenal.

According to Dr. Willmington of the Thomas of the church's stewardship Department, well over half of these members promised to join the club again this year.

According to the club's leaders they "realize" again, and Dr. Falwell believes the support of "donors" actually widen the face and a piece of white paper in the other, and began to write

An Open Letter From Jerry Falwell

Dear Friend,

In the first place, I believe it is important for me to state clearly that the primary role of a Christian, regardless of his profession, is to be a Christian. We are called to live as Christ lived and to follow the teachings of Scripture. This is the primary responsibility of every Christian, whether he be a politician, a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher, or a preacher.

However, I believe it is also important for me to state clearly that I am a Christian and that my primary responsibility is to follow the teachings of Scripture. I believe that the teachings of Scripture are clear and that they are the guidelines for my life. I believe that the teachings of Scripture are the foundation for my faith and that they are the basis for my actions.

Furthermore, I believe that the teachings of Scripture are the guidelines for our society and that they are the foundation for our legal system. I believe that the teachings of Scripture are the guidelines for our government and that they are the basis for our laws.

In conclusion, I believe that the teachings of Scripture are the guidelines for our lives and that they are the foundation for our society. I believe that the teachings of Scripture are the guidelines for our government and that they are the basis for our laws. I believe that the teachings of Scripture are the foundation for our system of values and that they are the basis for our moral code.

Sincerely,

Jerry Falwell

Update

The TRC and Bible college children gave Dr. Falwell a birthday cake on Friday, August 13th. Dr. Falwell sang his birthday song for the first time at the TRC congregation and staff presented Pastor Falwell with a gift. He also delivered two sermons as well as a speech about his birthday. He commented that he is not the only one who has been born on this day. Falwell closed his speech by stating, "Once a year, it's not a big deal, but when you get to my age, every year is a milestone."

Charles Hughes Speaks To Jacksonville City Commissioner

By BRENDA EASTERLING

"I'll tell you about my home and Charles Hughes was a man about my home. I'll tell you about my home," stated Pastor Wendell Dinsbeer.

Characters and life were a living example of a miracle. "There are no second chances in life," began Charles. "I don't know a second to a person."

In the town of the city of Charles' father, Dr. Robert Hughes, his brother's high school, who had lived a very successful career, and had a son named Mark. "He was an excellent person," said his father.

Dr. Dinsbeer brought me to Jacksonville when this church was started. They had come to visit some another another, another person to serve.

"Buck, Bob, Dr. Hughes had prayed for them. He had a soul to the church. He is a very committed man, who is a very committed Christian and wants to serve Him. Thus, you can use the prophecies to the church in question.

The question of the home which Dr. Hughes had left was to the church. He is a very committed man, who is a very committed Christian and wants to serve Him. Thus, you can use the prophecies to the church in question.

Here are several flea markets in this area. The Fort Hunter Flea Market is located off Timberlake Road. Another is located behind the First Paper Company on Route 28 nine miles south of Lynchburg. One of the larger flea markets in the Southeast is located at Albans, a city about 25 miles south of Lynchburg.

Mrs. Diane Williamson of LBC goes to flea markets occasionally to watch for good buys on antiques and plants. "You really have to look, but you can usually get some good bargains," she said. Miss Williamson bought a plant stand for three dollars that she found a copy of The Sun at a three dollar bracelet for 25 cents and a dollar.

Handicapped students are excited about new ministry, bus.

By BOB HARRIS

There's a new ministry at Thomas Road Baptist Church, and it is just about doubling in size Sunday after Sunday.

It is the ministry to physically handicapped people. Spearheaded by Special Baptist Church, and it is just about growing every Sunday since the ministry began.

Once they get to church, the handicapped are greeted by an overwhelming number of passers-by who want to help them. The whole church has been alerted to the ministry, O'Gorman says, and he has more than enough volunteers to help carry them off the bus and then wheel them to church services.

"It takes a little elbow grease, but everybody seems willing to overlook it," O'Gorman says.

Most handicapped riders on Bus 69 are not retarded. They may be hydrophobic—which sometimes means not only in the handicapped but also in an abnormally large hand—but they are quite silly. In fact, unlike the retarded who attend TRBC, the handicapped are given a choice of where they want to go. They may either be bussed to the main sanctuary to hear Dr. Jerry Falwell in the televised service, or they may stay in the Special Education department for church and Sunday school.

Some of them do attend the main service, but many of them decide to go to special Sunday school, which is held at the same time. They seem to enjoy the classes as much as the retarded, and they are hearing, O'Gorman says. When they come, they attend a class taught by either Glenn Blaidd, George Grurkovic, or Larry Davis, O'Gorman's initiates.

O'Gorman is pleased with the comments he has been receiving about the ministry. "Five of our handicapped riders, Cynthia and Cassie, are just thrilled to be able to come to church. And they're really bright too. Cynthia told me, 'I sure do enjoy coming to your church.'"

"With them, you have to speak slowly and carefully, but you can connect with them. In fact, they're more prepared to listen than I was."

O'Gorman is pleased with the results of his mission ministry's effort to open their church to the handicapped. "This whole ministry is really a great adventure."

PASTORS' CONFERENCE: THREE-IN-ONE

The annual Thomas Road Baptist Church Pastors' Conference, whose first session opened Tuesday afternoon, is being highlighted this year by seven packed conferences all in one. Watch the next issue for complete coverage.

The conference was opened by Dr. C. Sumner Wemp, moderator of the conference.

The Super Conference will offer 325 separate workshops in nearly every area of contemporary church work.

The topics that were chosen for the seven mini-conferences were:

- Money & Management Conference
- Christian Education, Sunday school
- Media
dr. a. v. Henderson

- "Well, then," O'Gorman said, "you'd better be looking for a bigger bus, because we'll be filling it— and more."

Seventeen handicapped rode Bus 69 that Sunday. The next week, the bus carried 28 crippled riders to Thomas Road Baptist Church. The number of riders has grown every Sunday since the ministry began.

"As long as you can fill it," Feiss smiled, "and I'm going to be seeing them all next Sunday."

"How long will you let us use it?"

"How long do you think we can have it?"

"What is this thing called?"

Aileen Ferrin Plays Marimba

Have you ever heard a vibraharp, or a marimba? Mrs. Frank Ferrin, who works for Jiffy M's market store in Lynchburg, is known for her wonderful skill at the marimba, the vibraharp, the xylophone, the maracas and the maracas.

The marimba, said Mrs. Ferrin, is a wooden percussion instrument which originated in Central America. The vibraharp is made with metal bars and wooden resonators.

Frank and Aileen Ferrin have been members of the Liberty Baptist Church since March. Their sons, Rick and Ron, are active in Liberty Baptist Church. The family has performed throughout the Tri-City area.

DINO PEDRONE: BIBLE TEACHING ‘ON FIRE’

By ELMER L. TOWNS

Joe McLucas was converted at four, and his mother led him to Christ. From the moment he accepted Christ, Pedrone received Christ at seven years old. They rented every available bus to get to Williams Grove Park where they heard the gospel hundreds of kids were bussed to Williams Grove. Connie Baranolk moved to the Open Door Church.
