FOR THE RECORD: $5,000

Churches used to talk about breaking their attendance records and having the largest Sunday School in the state. Now they talk about record offerings.

John Dar, religion writer for the Los Angeles Times, noted that the record for single Sunday offerings has been broken four times in the past few months. He reports that Church of Christ congregations in Texas began the Big Sunday Offering, 1978. Los Angeles, Calif., boasted a $100,000 offering. The Sunflower Baptist Church in Lubbock, N.M., reported a $99,000 offering, while the First Baptist Church in Lubbock, N.M., had a $75,000 offering.

Churches may be interested in the amount of money raised by various churches. In January, the Baptist churches raised a total of $2,412,000 in special offerings.

When Jerry Falwell announced a goal of $5 million for Sept. 24, 1978, it marked the largest one-time financial goal known in the history of Christianity. At the end of the day, in excess of $8 million had been received, and they were still counting.

The offering came from the viewers of The Old-Time Gospel Hour and the members of Thomas Road Baptist Church in Lynchburg.

BIBLICAL HARMONY

Dr. Ray Barnas, pastor of the Church of Christ, San Diego, Calif., and Secretary John Beal have prayed the prayers of support to meet the goal of raising $5 million by Oct. 31.

What's more, they are commending their support to other congregations in the state to raise an additional $500,000 by the end of the year for the mission of building.

In response, thousands of church members have responded.

Dr. Barnas and Son. Brigs, said the mission of the church is to provide a place for people to get involved with the church, and the mission is to provide a family for people who need it.

Protestations of God

Our purpose is to demonstrate to the world the power of God and to show that the church is a family for people who need it.

Churches are not the only ones who need a family. Many people are without a family and do not know where to turn.

Dr. Robert Gish, of the Creation Museum, said, "We have a mission to show that the church is a family for people who need it."

Churches in the state of California have raised more than $5 million, and they are continuing to raise more money.

From Camp David to Jerusalem

Dear Editor:

I have had many people come to our church to share the facts and give the facts about the current situation in the Middle East. I would like to call attention to some of the facts that people have been overlooking.

First, it is important to recognize that the Middle East is a region of great strategic importance. The region is home to some of the world's oldest and most significant civilizations, and it has been the site of many conflicts throughout history. The region is also rich in oil and other natural resources, making it a key player in global economics.

Second, it is important to recognize that the Middle East is a region of great religious importance. The region is home to some of the world's most significant religious sites, including the Abraham, Moses, and Jesus. The region is also home to some of the world's most significant religious communities, including the Jewish, Muslim, and Christian communities.

Third, it is important to recognize that the Middle East is a region of great cultural importance. The region is home to some of the world's most significant cultural traditions, including the Arabic, Islamic, and Jewish cultures.

Fourth, it is important to recognize that the Middle East is a region of great political importance. The region is home to some of the world's most significant political entities, including the Arab League, the Organization of Islamic Cooperation, and the United Nations.

In conclusion, I would like to urge all Americans to recognize the importance of the Middle East. The region is a region of great strategic, religious, cultural, and political importance, and it is important to all Americans.

Sincerely,

Food Assistance Plan Developed By Lynchburg Bumphers

Ron Beach, a member of Plover Road Baptist Church, looking into a future of rice, beans, black-eyed peas and other basic foods because it will not run out.

But Beach offers a food assistance plan for the entire community, and he has been working on the plan for the past four years. He is the owner of Modern Foods, a company that sells food assistance plans to private and public schools. But he has begun to offer his plan to other organizations as well.

Beach says that a food assistance plan can provide a steady income for a school or organization. But he also warns that it is important to have a plan in place to ensure the stability of the food supply.

One of the main reasons for creating the food assistance plan was to provide a steady income for public schools. Beach says that a food assistance plan can provide a steady income for a school or organization. But he also warns that it is important to have a plan in place to ensure the stability of the food supply.

The food assistance plan is designed to provide a steady income for a school or organization. The plan is based on a percentage of the cost of the food provided. Beach says that this percentage can be adjusted to fit the needs of the school or organization.

One of the main benefits of the food assistance plan is that it provides a steady income for a school or organization. But it also has the potential to provide a steady income for the community as a whole.

Christian Schools Ordered To File North Carolina Reports

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - Refusal of fundamentalist Christians academy in North Carolina to submit to state regulations in any form has led the state to start pressing the academy for compliance with state licensing requirements.

RICHARDSON, like other Christian schools in the state, cannot accept any state help, complained, "We don't want any help from the state."

Dr. Charles Ryrie, of the Dallas Theological Seminary, commented: "The day care centers are regulated by the state, the Care Child Licensing Commission, which means it is always necessary to have a state license."

The day care centers have to agree to those conditions. It's the opposite of the principle of the day. They have to have a right to a license, and if it continues to be refused, the state will have to make the action.

RICHARDSON, "(In this case) The Care Child Licensing Commission, which means it is always necessary to have a state license."

Sue Willmington Teaches 'Hearing'

By BRENDA EASTERLING

The lady in the story is the keynote speaker at the annual convention of the American Deaf Ministries. Her name is Sue Willmington, and she has been involved in evangelism and education for the deaf for over 35 years. She is the wife of Dr. Thomas Willmington, who is also a prominent figure in the deaf community.

Sue Willmington is known for her passion for communicating the Gospel to the deaf. She has been a leader in the movement to provide better opportunities for the deaf to hear and understand the message of Jesus Christ. She has been instrumental in the development of sign language interpretation and has helped to establish deaf-friendly churches across the country.

In her keynote address, Sue Willmington shares her personal story of growing up deaf and learning to communicate through sign language. She talks about the challenges she faced early on and how she overcame them to become a successful communicator.

She also discusses the importance of providing education for the deaf, both in sign language and in the written word. She emphasizes the need for better resources and opportunities for deaf people to learn and grow in their faith.

Sue Willmington encourages the audience to be open to the needs of the deaf community and to take action to help bridge the communication gap between the hearing and the deaf. She challenges everyone to be part of the solution and to work towards a world where the Gospel is heard by all.

In conclusion, Sue Willmington's keynote address is a powerful reminder of the importance of communication and the need to reach out to those who are different. Her story is a testament to the power of faith and the ability of individuals to overcome obstacles and make a difference in the world.

If I want to, I can fix an entire meal from Long-Life Food, including drinks and desserts. As I can use exactly what I need from each can, we don’t throw food away like we used to. It really helps to stretch my grocery money and my family enjoys what I prepare.”

Beth Haven Baptist: Louisville's Gospel Light

Dr. Tom Wallace “Builds Great People,” Ministry Expanded

Dr. BOB HARRIS

Many cases across America now have one gospel light that has outshined all the others in their town. In Louisville, Ky., that light is the Beth Haven Baptist Church.

Located near 20 years ago, Beth Haven has especially experienced the blessings of God since Dr. Tom Wallace was called here as pastor in 1971 and proceeded to build one of America’s great soul-winning churches.

The word “out-winning” is the key to Dr. Wallace’s success; he believes soul-winning should be the primary emphasis of the church. “If Beth Haven has one success, it is the heart of a church given itself to winning souls,” Dr. Wallace has been quoted as saying.

Dr. Wallace has expanded the concept of “house of security” (which means “house of safety” in Hebrew) is unique, but its basic meaning remains the same. The church began under the sponsorship of the Bethesda Baptist Church in 1959.

By 1962, when Rev. John Turpin was called as pastor, the congregation was averaging about 200 in Sunday School. Turpin paved the way for Wallace’s ministry by emphasizing sinning admiters, a dynamic pulpit ministry and personal evangelism. When Wallace took over in May 1971, he found the church full of accomplished soul-winners with whom he could build a super-aggressive force for the Lord Jesus throughout northern Kentucky and southern Indiana.

From then on, Wallace has followed through by baptizing that light is the Beth Haven Baptist Church, which offers Christian training to more than 4,000 students, including several senior citizens living in nearby Elizabethtown.

Southwefide Fellowship Meeting Scheduled at Beth Haven

Dr. Tom Wallace and his Beth Haven Baptist Church in Louisville have announced an event to be held October 2-4 at the church’s 5515 Johnsontown Road location in Louisville.

Originally formed by Dr. Lee Roberson, pastor of Highland Park Baptist Church in Chattanooga, Tenn., the Southwide Baptist Fellowship is a loosely organized body of Bible-believing, fundamentalist independent Baptist churches in the southern part of the United States.

The churches which make up the fellowship are so closely tied with the goal of reaching our country with the Gospel that they get spiritually unified by meeting once a year and hearing what their fellow pastors are doing, Dr. Robertson said. Dr. Jerry Falwell and the Thomas Road Baptist Church mainchurch membership in the Southwide Baptist Fellowship.

Hundreds of people, both preaching and lay people, attend every year’s conference, which is open to practically anyone.

Among the speakers for this year’s event are Dr. Robertson; Dr. A.V. Hendrix, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, Detroit, Mich.; Dr. Bob Gray, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, Jacksonville, Fla.; Dr. Togi Maton, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Pomona, Mich.; Dr. Jack Hylen, pastor of First Baptist Church, Hamilton, Ind.; Dr. John R. Rice, evangelist and editor of The Sword of the Lord, etc. Jack Hylen, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, Charlotte, N.C.; Dr. David Gibb, a lawyer from Crawfordsville, Ohio; Dr. Curtis Henson, associate editor of The Sword of the Lord, black evangelist Jon Earl, and Dr. Ken McComas, a pastor in Ohio who has written a biography of evangelist R.L. Malar.

Those who attend the conference will also get a sampling of good Gospel singing led by Lindsey Terry, music director of Northside Baptist Church, Charlotte, N.C.; and Bradley Price, a pastor.

In addition, there will be display booths and seminars which further describe the work being done by fundamental churches throughout the South. Thomas Road Baptist Church plans to sponsor a display booth describing the miracle on Liberty Memorial.

The emphasis of the Fellowship this year is an all-out effort to magnify Christ throughout the preaching of His Word, Dr. Wallace said.

Dr. J.R. Faulkner, pastor of Temple Missionary Baptist Church, Chattanooga, will moderate the event. Among the activities he has organized is a 100-vocalists preachers’ choir.

Dr. Faulkner and I have worked very closely with several good men to put together a top-quality program for the 1978 Southwide Baptist Fellowship,” Dr. Wallace said.

Dr. Tom Wallace and other pastors present at the 1977 event are shown above.

KYLENE BARKER: A CHRISTIAN MISS

Galax' Prouddest Moment Is Nation's Best, Family Cites Beauty's Youth and Determination

By BRENDA EASTERLING

When the average person sees Miss America, he gives her credit for good looks, poise and a number of other qualities. Miss America, however, is a woman who down the road is more than she really is. She represents the investment that her parents have made in her. At the core of the new Miss America are her family "really" thought she would be a winner.

When Miss America, Kylene Barker, was crowned the 1978 Miss America, she gained the support of the entire Barker family. Even the Barker's mother who was seated beside Kylene's bedroom is to make it.

Note that Kylene is Miss America, she is a representative for all American women. However, her mother felt about this. "I think she will represent us for all American women. How does her mother feel about this? I don't think it would be hard to act.

"Our ministry is being positively experienced, as God is going to raise up a man to boldly witness to others while we are here, for He is the one who is always abounding in immovable, always abounding in beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, and ye shall to the end, because the Lord is coming soon."—2 Peter 3:13-14

The Stedfast Bible Class now meets weekly at 9:45 a.m., and the class with a word of in-breathing is also held at 11:00 a.m. Each meeting is spent in prayer after a brief devotion. Many members have reported that it is not them, but God who has brought about this closeness of Christian experience. He lives what he teaches. The members are as good as any I've ever known, and I cannot imagine the church being without them. The class continues, and will not be possible without the support of those who are able and willing to help us to help others. We have much to offer, and we can keep on going here, and we can hold meetings. After the service, the students are reminded of the importance of the clas.
