03-01-89 (The Liberty Champion, Volume 6, Issue 15)
Liberty University, Lynchburg, Va.

Senior facilities in place; dorm residents waiting for APC power

Cancels classes

The phones are in the rooms, and the laundry room is nearly complete. However, sheet molding in dorms 19-32 will delays until after Christmas, while they’re able to use these temporary facilities.

Time was well spent in installing all rooms in the senior dorms since Jerry Smith, director of communications services, the switching equipment is installed, and the catalyst switch is on place.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Because of inclement weather, Appalachian Power Company can’t get their trucks through the clay in order to test the needed power pole. “If we get a few nice days, the general should dry up pretty quick,” Smith says. Any problems with the system shouldn’t be a problem and the installation of the remaining two weeks after the power is installed. The system is due to be held up progress on the senior laundry room because of the delays.

“Right now we’re waiting for the power to come on and the utility work to be finished,” John Balzer, director of auxiliary services, says. “It’s just been just about the entire time. The facility will be opening in about three weeks, Balzer says.

The cleaning situation in the senior dorms has also concerned residents.

While the university supplies the chemicals, seniors are required to clean their own bathrooms. These are not on a list that is supplied with required services.

This concern becomes financially impractical to supply cleaning serving for four people. The issues of resident life, Bruce Tarr says.

Because about 40 people use each bathroom in a normal day, Tarr says they’ll have to find someone to do the cleaning.

“Part of the agreement between the students and the university is that they will provide their own cleaning,” Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Due to the delays in the power distribution, the laundry equipment is not operational. The facility is expected to open in about three weeks, Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Due to the delays in the power distribution, the laundry equipment is not operational. The facility is expected to open in about three weeks, Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Due to the delays in the power distribution, the laundry equipment is not operational. The facility is expected to open in about three weeks, Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Due to the delays in the power distribution, the laundry equipment is not operational. The facility is expected to open in about three weeks, Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Due to the delays in the power distribution, the laundry equipment is not operational. The facility is expected to open in about three weeks, Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.

Due to the delays in the power distribution, the laundry equipment is not operational. The facility is expected to open in about three weeks, Tarr says.

“The whole determining factor is the electric power,” Smith says.
Debate team brings national respect to LU

It's trophy case in the DeMois arena is imposing. Impressively so.

The group that earned these awards is equally impressive. It is nationally ranked ahead of Harvard, Dartmouth, and every major university in the country. The team is national rated eleventh in the nation and will probably be in the top five when the next poll comes out.

Now before anyone gets excited about some kind of pre-season football poll, we need to clarify that we're talking about the Liberty debate team. Debate team? You know, the people who use their minds and mouths to win meets.

Behind the leadership of Prof. Brent O'Donnell, the debate team has risen to a point of national recognition. With varsity debaters Janet Peripet and Lisa Lundquist leading the way, the LU team is turning tons of heads.

With the school paying for travel and research, the team is also able to compete in major tournaments. And as O'Donnell says, it speaks well of LU to be able to compete on this level intellectually.

It's good to see that such teams as the debate team are serving to make Liberty a well-respected institution in terms of both academics and athletics, and one that will excel in both majors.

Considering that there are more than 2,000 debate teams in the United States, Liberty has come a long way in a short time in this area (the team is just nine-year-old).

Congratulations to the debate team. You are making us proud and respected as a university.

Guest Commentary

Peace must not dictate American policy

Peace without freedom is slavery. The United States must never have its foreign policy on defending and expanding freedom. The vision of the world must never sacrifice freedom and democratic capitalism on the altar of peace.

Of course this means that the U.S. should establish policies against peace, but I believe that it should establish policies that will create real and lasting peace, absolutely interlocked with freedom and democratic capitalism.

Neville Chamberlain, while Prime Minister of Great Britain is the 1930's, sold his country's foreign policy on peace. He even gives Hitler a piece of paper to sign a agreement with the Allies.

We all know how successful that was. It didn't achieve freedom and it cost us dear. It was forced by the Senate, and by Congress didn't act on it.

In Nicaragua, we have a foreign policy on peace. We abandoned the Contras on empty promises from the Sandinistas. The policy failed. The tyrants are still in power and their people are voting with their feet by flooding through our borders as refugees.

Let's look at the U.S. policies towards Afghanistan and Nicaragua.

Peace without freedom is slavery.

Recent debate and failure of a proposed $51 billion fund to pay for executive, legislative and judicial employee supports the argument for a debate in the integrity of our government representatives.

How can these people even justify a pay raise in the midst of the worst economic situation this country has ever seen? You're probably saying to yourself, "What a second? This guy doesn't know what's going on. Joe Paulo, sends three letters a week to his girlfriend in Ohio, which keeps them get their pay raise with the stipulation that Duke be allowed to retain his views of the KKK."

With the Senate voting down the pay raise for executives, legislative and judicial employees, the party that supports racial and religious intolerance, the party that supports racial and religious intolerance, the party that would have become law even if Congress didn't act on it.

The Senate did turn down the pay raise by just short of a unanimous vote. The Senate is national ranked ahead of Harvard, the House, on the other hand, with crafty and crassly attempting to bring the matter to a full vote the next day. The House voted down the pay raise by a margin of 350-40. During the vote, Speaker Wright didn't have the backbone to take a stand on the issue and failed to vote.

Personally, I think we should have let them get their pay raise with the stipulation that everyone who makes a pathetic attempt to pull a fast one will pay the U.S. federal deficit. Congres...
Conservatists must start showing compassion

The Liberty champion wants you!

Would you like to be a guest columnist for The Liberty Champion?

We are looking for people to write on any subject regarding life at LU, issues facing America or world issues.

Along with your guest column, we need your name, major, classification and hometown.

We need a rough draft of your comment by 4 p.m. on Fridays.

If you are interested, call Curt Olson at the journalism lab, 2420, or in Dorm 18 at 3756. Also, you can write to Curt Olson at box 22457 or stop by DH 109 or 110.

Please limit the length of your comment to 200 words.

opinion

Have a question or a problem? Ask Dear Gabby

Dear Gabby,

My boyfriend treats me like dirt. He never takes me out. He flakes with other girls. He never calls me to ask if all's well. I'm Worried on the Circle Side of Campus.

Dear Wored, Are you sure this guy is your boyfriend? Does he know that he is your boyfriend? This could be the root of your problem. If this guy has no idea who you are, his behavior is to be expected. You should spend more time at the student union.

Dear Gabby, I like to study real hard, but I don't make good grades. What's my problem?

Money saving hints for helping the college student

The other white lettering is a few clothing items in the courtyard out the entire campus and even certain parts of Lynchburg. If you ever encounter difficulty in finding clothes, try any one of thirty on the school grounds. Bushes seem to possess a magical attracting power for this pure chewing satisfaction. You'll be amazed at how much your romances will turn up.

Jeff Simmons is a staff writer for The Liberty Champion.

Valence Eddy Sophomore class president

The next few days were golden for the apple plant. The weather was mild, the sun shone brightly, and the air was filled with expectant promise of things to come. The apple tree blossomed, and the leaves sprouted. Spring had arrived, and nature was energized. The apple orchard was a sight to behold.

Anthony Perrone

Just a week ago, I had a conversation with one of my roommates about the changes taking place in Egyptian society. We discussed the potential for change and the challenges that lie ahead. It was clear that the political landscape had shifted dramatically, and we were eager to see how the future would unfold.

The Liberty Champion.

Student Forum

We agreed to order the rules when we signed

Editor, As a student, I really want the staff and faculty for finally standing up and doing something about the chaos that is the Liberty Way. Specifically, the dress code for males and females. Being male, I appreciate feminine modesty and feminine self-respect.

Scared and that

Editor, I want to extend my deepest apologies to all those concerned and especially the Valentine's Day kids who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to express my deepest apologies to all of you who have been neglected or taken advantage of by the administration. I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

Finaly, to all the students who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

The Liberty Champion.

Sincerely,

C. Todd Cummings Sophomore class president

Thanks for the South Africa article

Editor, I was thoroughly impressed by your July 7th article on South Africa. As an American who is married to a South African and has lived and traveled in South Africa, I can wholeheartedly concur with the article. I was delighted to see that your paper had covered this important issue.

Jeff Simmons is a staff columnist for The Liberty Champion.

The Liberty Champion.

Curt Olson is the Editorial Editor of The Liberty Champion.

The next few days were golden for the apple plant. The weather was mild, the sun shone brightly, and the air was filled with expectant promise of things to come. The apple tree blossomed, and the leaves sprouted. Spring had arrived, and nature was energized. The apple orchard was a sight to behold.

Anthony Perrone

Just a week ago, I had a conversation with one of my roommates about the changes taking place in Egyptian society. We discussed the potential for change and the challenges that lie ahead. It was clear that the political landscape had shifted dramatically, and we were eager to see how the future would unfold.

The Liberty Champion.

Student Forum

We agreed to order the rules when we signed

Editor, As a student, I really want the staff and faculty for finally standing up and doing something about the chaos that is the Liberty Way. Specifically, the dress code for males and females. Being male, I appreciate feminine modesty and feminine self-respect.

Scared and that

Editor, I want to extend my deepest apologies to all those concerned and especially the Valentine's Day kids who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to express my deepest apologies to all of you who have been neglected or taken advantage of by the administration. I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

Finaly, to all the students who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

The Liberty Champion.

Sincerely,

C. Todd Cummings Sophomore class president

Thanks for the South Africa article

Editor, I was thoroughly impressed by your July 7th article on South Africa. As an American who is married to a South African and has lived and traveled in South Africa, I can wholeheartedly concur with the article. I was delighted to see that your paper had covered this important issue.

Jeff Simmons is a staff columnist for The Liberty Champion.

The Liberty Champion.

Curt Olson is the Editorial Editor of The Liberty Champion.

The next few days were golden for the apple plant. The weather was mild, the sun shone brightly, and the air was filled with expectant promise of things to come. The apple tree blossomed, and the leaves sprouted. Spring had arrived, and nature was energized. The apple orchard was a sight to behold.

Anthony Perrone

Just a week ago, I had a conversation with one of my roommates about the changes taking place in Egyptian society. We discussed the potential for change and the challenges that lie ahead. It was clear that the political landscape had shifted dramatically, and we were eager to see how the future would unfold.

The Liberty Champion.

Student Forum

We agreed to order the rules when we signed

Editor, As a student, I really want the staff and faculty for finally standing up and doing something about the chaos that is the Liberty Way. Specifically, the dress code for males and females. Being male, I appreciate feminine modesty and feminine self-respect.

Scared and that

Editor, I want to extend my deepest apologies to all those concerned and especially the Valentine's Day kids who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to express my deepest apologies to all of you who have been neglected or taken advantage of by the administration. I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

Finaly, to all the students who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

The Liberty Champion.

Sincerely,

C. Todd Cummings Sophomore class president

Thanks for the South Africa article

Editor, I was thoroughly impressed by your July 7th article on South Africa. As an American who is married to a South African and has lived and traveled in South Africa, I can wholeheartedly concur with the article. I was delighted to see that your paper had covered this important issue.

Jeff Simmons is a staff columnist for The Liberty Champion.

The Liberty Champion.

Curt Olson is the Editorial Editor of The Liberty Champion.

The next few days were golden for the apple plant. The weather was mild, the sun shone brightly, and the air was filled with expectant promise of things to come. The apple tree blossomed, and the leaves sprouted. Spring had arrived, and nature was energized. The apple orchard was a sight to behold.

Anthony Perrone

Just a week ago, I had a conversation with one of my roommates about the changes taking place in Egyptian society. We discussed the potential for change and the challenges that lie ahead. It was clear that the political landscape had shifted dramatically, and we were eager to see how the future would unfold.

The Liberty Champion.

Student Forum

We agreed to order the rules when we signed

Editor, As a student, I really want the staff and faculty for finally standing up and doing something about the chaos that is the Liberty Way. Specifically, the dress code for males and females. Being male, I appreciate feminine modesty and feminine self-respect.

Scared and that

Editor, I want to extend my deepest apologies to all those concerned and especially the Valentine's Day kids who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to express my deepest apologies to all of you who have been neglected or taken advantage of by the administration. I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

Finaly, to all the students who have suffered during this hideous semester, I want to say that I am truly sorry for my actions and for the pain that I have caused.

The Liberty Champion.

Sincerely,

C. Todd Cummings Sophomore class president

Thanks for the South Africa article

Editor, I was thoroughly impressed by your July 7th article on South Africa. As an American who is married to a South African and has lived and traveled in South Africa, I can wholeheartedly concur with the article. I was delighted to see that your paper had covered this important issue.

Jeff Simmons is a staff columnist for The Liberty Champion.

The Liberty Champion.

Curt Olson is the Editorial Editor of The Liberty Champion.

The next few days were golden for the apple plant. The weather was mild, the sun shone brightly, and the air was filled with expectant promise of things to come. The apple tree blossomed, and the leaves sprouted. Spring had arrived, and nature was energized. The apple orchard was a sight to behold.

Anthony Perrone

Just a week ago, I had a conversation with one of my roommates about the changes taking place in Egyptian society. We discussed the potential for change and the challenges that lie ahead. It was clear that the political landscape had shifted dramatically, and we were eager to see how the future would unfold.

The Liberty Champion.
The Ho Story
By Dan Hochhalter

This theory can easily be proved by just a few minutes of research. In the state of Nebraska, for example, if you've looked at the population density, it's quite clear that there are more people in the eastern part of the state than in the western part. If you look at the same thing in Bandera County, Texas, you'll find that there are more people in the eastern part of the county than in the western part. This is because of the

The Bank Restaurant
11th Main
487-8100

Make a reservation now for Friday dinner. Call 487-8100.

The Bank Restaurant
11th Main
487-8100

An all-you-can-eat sandwich and salad bar for only 2.99!

Enjoy hot homemade soup and a 15-item salad bar filled with fresh vegetables, crisp lettuce and seasonal fruit each day from 11:30 to 2:30.

For reservations call 487-8100.

Liberty Catering

Crist Motel
First Class Economy
2015 Candler's Mtn. Rd.
Lynchburg, VA 24502

PHONE: (804) 237-2966

Heated pool
Free limo service from airport and to
TRBC and LU.

Crist Motel

Liberty Rates

The Liberty Chimpion

"Transition: Rock drummers turn to jazz, blends styles"

BY ROBERT PITTS

Many years ago, his father told him, "When you're old and grey and don't have any hair left, you'll look at me and think what a fool I was for not covering it up." And so he did. "I was a fool," he said, "but I was also foolish, and I was willing to do it."

Dave Eighme practices saxophone with LBN's Alan Nowell.

"I'm not sure if I'll ever do it again," he said. "But I do enjoy it, and I think it's a good way to get away from the stresses of everyday life." And so he continuation from page 1

Annie

Continued from page 1

Mike Oliver Larsen, but this man doesn't shake the world. Put his suit and tie on again, and he would be a more believable character.

Marywood Bentley does an admirable job as a sophomore biblical studies major. He now practices 10-15 hours each week and takes lessons from Alan Merriell.

"He's really diversified in his stuff," she says. "I was able to express myself with jazz, and (jazz is) something I can fit me and my personality."

He now practices 10-15 hours each week and takes lesson from Alan Merriell.

"He's really practical in his teaching. He's brought me a long way."

The adjustment from metal to jazz has been a long trip in itself.

"It's been a real change for me."

"I met them two weeks after they had become Stryper."

"Stryper was a very powerful band, and we were very lucky to be able to be part of it."

"But which does the musician now do?"

"I'm not sure if I'll ever do it again," he said. "But I do enjoy it, and I think it's a good way to get away from the stresses of everyday life." And so he
NewsLine

Clubs and organizations are encouraged to send their news in news release form to The Liberty Champion, Box 20000. Releases must be received by noon Wednesday.

---

"Spiritual Emphasis Week" features evangelist Jay Strack

Spiritual Emphasis Week, March 5-8, will feature Southern Baptist evangelist Jay Strack. Rob Jackson, LU campus pastor, said the administration is praying a campus-wide revival will occur during the special week.

"No matter who you are, what you've done, what kind of mess you're in or what kind of reputation you have, you can shake the dust off your feet and have an exciting and meaningful life in Jesus Christ," Strack said.

The LU campus schedule: March 5 in the multi-purpose center at 10 a.m.; March 6 at 6:30 p.m. chapel services, 5:00 p.m. in the multi-purpose center and 7:30 p.m. in DH 106-161; March 7 at 7:30 p.m. in DH 106-161; March 8 at 10:00 a.m. chapel and 7:30 p.m. in DH106-161.

Senate resolutions sent to Administration for consideration

BY THERESA DUNCAN

A call for tougher admission standards was just one of the resolutions passed by the Student Senate and sent before the administration for approval during the 1988-89 school year.

One resolution that has received the administration's stamp of approval is the one that critics believe to be the most serious of the entire week. Senate resolutions sent to the special week.

President of SGA, SGA's executive VP, said.

Clubs and organizations are encouraged to send

---

Social Life not diminished for perfect grades

BY LAURA GREGG

Contrary to popular belief, a student does not have to sacrifice his social life to maintain good grades. That's the recent conclusion of five students who are among the 939 on the fall 1988 Dean's List. Each of the five has maintained a 4.0 grade point average throughout his time at LU.

Kerr Williams, a senior psychology major from Naples, N.Y., said, "I like to be flexible. I'm a people person. On weekends I usually go out no matter what. During the week I'll stay in and study."

Tim Lucas, a senior accounting major from Johnson City, Tenn., isn't quite sure how he's balanced everything. "I just allow enough time for extra-curricular activities to help maintain (my) sanity."

Many students seem to feel it is difficult to study in a dorm. Williams said she wouldn't be a problem if there were only two people in a room. On the other hand, Lucas said, "I study best in my dorm with Christian contemporary music on.

Resident assistants experience more study pressure than the average student. Daniel Johnson, a senior from Pittsburgh, Pa., with a double major of pastoral and psychology concentration, commented on his study habit that "I do have trouble studying just by nature of the fact that I'm an A. . . Sometimes I think that I have to get out or I'll go crazy. I think you could do a benefit of your own."

Williams commented on the need for priorities. "My walk with Christ is always first. I'm not sure what studies come in; people are more im-

"People are more important than studies. Studies are more important than sleep."

Mohedy Felchan, a junior business management major from Bradenton, Fla., also has a flexible plan. "I try to get an opportunity to do something, that would be depress-

However, she mentioned that her high school teachers taught her the importance of studies by explaining the school is her career, as long as

"We've always thought this (school) is my career, and I have to put every-

"When I study my eyes, I read through them two weeks. Then I take a blank piece of paper and write down all the as-

Kerry Zook, a junior political sci-

"The Greatest Weapon on Earth"

"I've always thought this (school) is my career, and I have to put every-

Williams also makes note for extra-

A few well-spent weeks this summer can make the rest of your year a lot less complicated. Liberty University Summer allows you to earn three, six, nine - even twelve hours in a matter of weeks. You can cut back on

Which of the following best describes your last semester at Liberty?

a) Mack truck
b) Crossing a high-wire while balancing an over-weight elephant on your back—without a net.
c) Super Mario Brothers set at extra-high-speed advanced
d) Perpetual anxiety over papers due, readings not done, exams pending, and projects looming.
e) Arm wrestling an octopus.

A few well-spent weeks this summer can make the rest of your year a lot less complicated. Liberty University Summer allows you to earn three, six, nine - even twelve hours in a matter of weeks. You can cut back on

COMING ATTRACTION

Disaster

"The HO Story" on Earth

ALCOHOL AWARENESS WEEK

March 5-9

Sponsored By: Residence Life

---

Lynchburg Chiropractic Center

2906 Old Forest Road

Lynchburg, Virginia 24501

DR. LARRY G. MCCLOTHLIN

384-1431

HOURS BY APPOINTMENT

---

Jonathan's Hair Care Center

Jonny Ervin received his training at the Robert Fiance School of Hair Design in New York City. After returning to Lynchburg, He graduated from Liberty University and apprenticed at Super Hair, Inc.

At the International Beauty Show in New York, Jonny attended technical seminars under the Sebastian ArtisticTeam, Paul Mitchell Systems, Vidal Sassoon, and Jingles International.

$5.00 off Ladies' and Mens' cuts and $10.00 perms for Liberty students

For an appointment please call 239-6859

Monday - Saturday

407 Old Green Mill Road
Richardson hits for 21 points in win over Drexel

By KEITH MILLER

Liberty defeated Drexel University 82-79 at the LU Gymnasium last Saturday night with great execution in the last two minutes.

Guard Tim Scarborough pushed the Flames on a 14-2 run into a 73-71 lead with 2:15 left in the game. Forward Derrick Williams keyed the Flames ahead in the last two minutes, turning a 73-all deadlock into a 78-73 Liberty slays Dragons in comeback win.

With 3:29 left, turned the game back into Liberty as they outscored the Dragons 16-6 while a 7-0 run in the last 1:45.

The Flames showed a lot of character in the first half, starting to hit from the perimeter. A-3,200.

According to Terry Jordan, Associate Director for the Department of Athletics, "If we're making great advancements as athletes prepare for this qualifier..."

By KEVIN B. LLOYD

The second half, it seemed like the home team's 22 points in the first half as they converted on the break.

The administration is currently working on plans to provide more funds to the program in the future.

Yarborcite offers many opportunities in Intramural sports program

By KEVIN M. BLOYE

Intramural sports director Dr. Roy Yarboretum says that sports participation can be a great way to make friends and have fun. He says, "They're a fine team and they fought hard and didn't quit. Albert is a great player and Todd Clark really shows great potential. I think we've built up the LU against UNC-Greensboro at LU Gym.

"This game was a real struggle and Coach Meyer did an excellent job. It really hurt us when he went to the box and our 86 (defeated) on Blue Edwards. They're fine men and they fought hard and didn't quit. Albert is a great player and Todd Clark really shows great potential. I think we've built up the LU against UNC-Greensboro at LU Gym.

"The administrative program fights to gain respect of teams at this level.

"We played them well for about 28 minutes. They got a couple of long rebounds against UNC-Greensboro at LU Gym.

"I thought in the first half, we played them well for about 28 minutes. They got a couple of long rebounds against UNC-Greensboro at LU Gym.

"Before you know it, we are down 10 points. At this level, it's hard to come back from that kind of deficit.

"We knew Liberty was a good ballclub," said JM Guard Jeff Meyer. "We knew they had played great competition. Liberty may not sound like a team but they are.

"I thought down the stretch, they were quicker to the ball," said JM Coach Jeff Meyer. "We thought the way to play was to use our size and hold a ball and get them of quality for nationals." Shulie said.

Warren Stewart, defending Division II National Champion currently wrestling at 157 lbs., and Sharmay Morris, at 77 lbs., may qualify at the meet. The Flames responded much of the year without an injured Warren Stewart and former wrestler Joe Dap普inos and Ron Frank.

"They got a couple of long rebounds and started running," said Richardson. "Before you know it, we are down 10 points. At this level, it's hard to come back from that kind of deficit."