Changing lives

Students see more than a safari during LIGHT's Kenya trip over spring break. By Jessica Wilson, assistant editor

With the incoming technology, students can look forward to many new advances in the technology field. But this new technology brings with it a hefty price tag.

According to a letter published by Minster, Zeller, executive director of information services, the cost of installing the necessary software to project the video is about $5,000. The Government Association and Liberty University Administration have both been working together to evaluate options to cover these costs.

The solution to the problem of finding the right cost-effective budget for LIGHT is a good one. It is split over two semesters.

This fall, students will pay a $150-per-semester fee for non-commuter students and $135-per-semester fee for commuter students. The fee will be in effect during the 2000-2001 academic year.

The commuter students will be charged a lower rate because their access speed will be slower than resident students," Zaffke said.

Student Body President Chris Stewart and Greg Dowell, dean of students, who said.

"I think we have come up with a design for a" WEB — A worker installs cable wiring in dorm 15 last week, part of the effort to connect students completely to campus. The campus will be finished for the fall semester, campus official said.

"There is a way this can be done without excessively affecting our students' pockets. Originally, the committee's charge of budgeting the new project did not charge all students $50 per semester for the next several sessions. When Stewart and his crew were asked to help market the plan to the students, they were disappointed with the response. Stewart pointed out the committee's charge of a more student-friendy plan.

"I think the end result is more accurate and pertinent to the future and the success of the committee agreed with this new plan and核准 the proposal for the 2000-2001 academic year.

With that in mind, Furler started InPop Records.

"We've learned that we love having our second album, "Step Up to Liberty's Kenya trip over spring break.

SGA campaigns begin this week

By Chris Edwards, editor in chief

Four candidates are vying for the position of student body president during this week’s Student Government Association campaigns. Students will choose between Tim Helman, Mark Murrell, Gary Steinborn and Roy Simmons on election day, April 4. Polls will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. in DeVlin Hall.

Junior Nathan Cooper is running unopposed for SGA executive vice president of the Student Senate. Sophomore Clark Jones is running unopposed for vice president of student services.

Active campaigning began yesterday in the Hangar. The Hangar has become a regular hangout other than the walls of dorms, along with two televisions that offer the system In the coming months.

In celebration of The Hangar’s one-year anniversary, Student Life and The Hangar are throwing a party. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday (not on Saturdays) will special events, such as burgers, subs and pizzas.

The five-dollar burgers will be cooked by a celebrity chef and offered for 99 cents. Also featured will be the “Subtronics” newest creation, oil-rubbed spaghetti and garlic bread.

Student Life has purchased an extensive sound system to go along with two televisions that will have the same viewing selection as Dwyer’s Place, including ESPN. Hangar personnel hope to add the system in the coming months.

“The sound system will add some much needed atmosphere,” commented Eric Barber said. “We hope to see regular events like trivia nights and karaoke nights with spine-rattling and toe-tapping sound.”

The Hangar has been the subject of much discussion, but student input is needed.

Students can obtain class credits by attending annual Civil War Seminar this weekend

By Angela Nelson, reporter

The Liberty University History Department is hosting its fourth annual Civil War Seminar at Davidson Place this weekend. This year's seminar will focus on "Writing about the War," and will feature several well-known Civil War authors.

Dr. Harry Turck, who has taught at UCA and Cal State Fullerton, will give the keynote address at 7 p.m. on Friday. Turck has written several alternative history novels, including a Civil War-based trilogy. He has received the Hugo Award and the Sidewise Award for best novel.

Saturday's lectures will be given by various authors, such as Ernest Pugliese, journalist and the Richmond News Leader and the Baltimore Sun, and Edward Longacre, historian for the Air Force.

Registration for the conference will begin at 6:30 p.m. on March 31, and the conference will last until 1:30 p.m. on April 1. The cost for each day will be $10 for students and can be paid at the door. For non-students, the cost is $20 for Friday and $15 for Saturday.

There will be a luncheon served Saturday afternoon at 11:45 a.m. Lunchtime must be made by 4 p.m. on March 29 in order to reserve a spot. The price for the luncheon is $10 per person.

Liberty students who wish to obtain one academic credit for the seminar can enroll through the Registrar's Office. Anyone wishing to attend can register at the History Department in the Student Education Building, room 134. Any additional information can be obtained through the History Department at ext. 2008.

Cuban boy to go home

A federal judge cleared the way for Elian Gonzalez, the 6-year-old Cuban boy to go home.

U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service attorneys recently filed a motion asking for the return of Elian and his Miami relatives seeking a political asylum hearing for Elian and his relatives.

"Ibrestbrook" Contreras was in fair condition after the incident. Her mother, who was shot in the abdomen, and the pastor, who was shot in the chest, were in critical condition. After the shooting, the alleged gunman Oscar CasUllo, 32, killed himself.

A man who was on the scene said the gunman had stalked her burst into a church where she was talking with her mother and pastor about the stalker.

Liberty students in 2000-2001 will have two general fees — the technology fee and the new housing fee (depending on housing) — per semester. Here’s a look at some of the general fees at neighboring and comparable universities.

Old Dominion University (per year) Technology Fee-$128 Student Activity Fee-$128
Randolph-Macon Woman’s College (per semester) Telecommunications Fee-$200
Virginia Commonwealth (per term) Technology Fee-$20.50 University Fee-$436.00 (recreational sports, facilities, student commons, campus development, student involvement, extramural sports, recreation, student organizations)!

11 Students can help cover ongoing operating costs.

“The fee only covers the real cost of the system. It does not cover the ongoing support costs. The added costs will help maintain the system, because tests or upgrades to the system will be supported by the ongoing budget and the increasing technology,” said Furler.

According to Furler, while the new fee may seem intimidating, the cost for the university is still minimal.

“Even with this added fee, it’s still a reasonable university price,” Stewart said.

While students will see a new fee on their bills, Young said the advantage provided by the new service would give students many benefits.

“When our system is fully installed, it will connect liberty University into the top percentage of schools and universities in the area of technology. Only a very few institutions can boast of the advantages provided by the new technology fee and the new housing fee,” Young said.

Kenya: Meeting with president a highlight

The Lord told me I’d go to Africa. To say my spirit waxed was an understatement. I knew I should go. How could I have ever imagined it? Furler said. “It didn’t dawn on me that anything was going to work. I was surprised when the Lord called me to help as a missionary.”

The biggest surprise for Carson came out with the attendance of 80, a professional event isn’t regular, but in finding out afterwards that his sermon was broadcast on television all over Kenya. The next day, a picture of Carson shaking hands with the president was on the front page of the Kenya Times newspaper.

Students make a home on the Web Wide Web

By Justin Ridge, reporter

The advent of this technological revolution has changed most everyone around the globe. One can find as much of the growth of the Internet as pages of Access internet. Internet Magazine. Web sites like Mountainsteam.com, Ask.com and Discovery.com show the adventures of mountain climbers and Arctic explorers.

Using advanced graphic programs such as Flash, Quark, Dreamweaver and Adobe, Web surfers can double-click on journal pages to see these adventures. These "starstruck explorers" can also see pictures from Mt. Everest as climbers scale the world's largest peak.

"The ability to use technology has caused the advent of mountaineering as a spectator sport," said Mt. Everest expedition leader Eric Simonson.

The political reference Alaska.

The political reference Alaskan. mappanews.com said. "Having real-time photos and journal entries at the fingertips is an example of the technology of the Web at work."

"The process of designing and programming a Web site is a bit more complex. To create a Web page, the first stop is Network Solutions. This company is the only company that assigns a potential Web page a domain name, or the "web" part of a Web page address.

After the domain classification, a host company must be contacted. Global 2000 Communication Inc. is an example of a host company. These companies, paid monthly or yearly by Web site owners, hold the information that is presented on the Web page. Mostly prices for storage space range anywhere from $9 to $100.

"Most companies give you enough space when you register with them," Simmons said. Most host companies will design Web pages. Some are for designing, programming and putting the Web page on the Internet everywhere from $500 to $1,000.

The Bible character comes to life at Liberty along with a host of biblical figures in the musical, "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." Although only age 17, Joseph demonstrates strength and compassion. He portrays innocence but displays wisdom far beyond his years.

"I'm looking forward to bringing onto stage in a professional manner a biblical narrative," Professor Linda Neil Cooper, director of the production said.

"Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" will be the first religious experience musical performed at Liberty in both a serious and humorous manner, the musical presents much of Joseph's life without straying from the biblical account.

Many of the lyrics are a paraphrased ver-
song.

"I have seen this musical 12 times, by professionals, non-professionals (and) by little performers," Cooper said. "I have never seen the audience will allow it to be — If you have an open heart when you go in," Cooper said.

The cast is made up of 30 Liberty students and 12 area children ranging in age from 5 to 13. The characters will bring high energy and celebration dancing to the stage as they tell the story of Joseph's life through song.

Softball finishes 3rd in Sports Plus Tourney

By Lewis Loven, reporter

After splitting a pair of games on Wednesday against Longwood College, the Lady Flames traveled to Chesterfield, Va., this past weekend to participate in the Sports Plus Tournament.

In the semifinals on Saturday, Liberty 5-4 edged George Mason 11-14 by a score of 13-15. The Adv. defeated West Chester in the consolation game 13-0 to assure third-place in the tournament.

In the first game of the tournament, Liberty 8-7 defeated George Mason. Liberty's right-hander, Hollyfield-down in Juniors Lee Jones and Kay Cubb in to pitch out a 2-0 lead.

The loss to George Mason gained Liberty a spot in the consolation game against West Chester. In the matchup, the Lady Flames pounded the Golden Rams, 15-8.

Hollyfield drove in Juniors Lisa Jones and Hollyfield in to pitch out a 2-0 lead.

According to coach Hubbard, his team has the potential to "win and will do so if they continue to gel as a team. Every individual being the best in their match proved that we were in over match. I believe that any given day we can win," Hubbard said.

Handy named Player of the Year by Richard Aronson & Doug Stewart

For the past few seasons, the hockey team has depended on a few players that have been able to put up the numbers to hand out some player awards.

The players skated their team to a solid season this year. One of the names that have been a mainstay on the ice for the Flames is senior leader Kirk Handy. Handy, the assistant captain of the 99-00 LU squad learned the game that his parents have to the benefits of hockey for the minutes of study.

I think hockey encourages doing a homework for their students. I develop responsibility, self-reliance and awareness. I hope to provide a positive role model. What do you expect from Handy? I expect him to be a good leader, on and off of the ice," Handy said.

What is the Player of the Year honor in order? Handy said.

The award marked the first time that the Flames' Nick Anderson placed second overall at the 2000 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships. Handy named Player of the Year.

Return to the Indians for more hockey information.

Handy skated his team to a solid season this year by displaying leadership qualities that he knows he and putting together impressive individual statistics as well. The latter played a major part in Handy being named the WCHA Atlantic Coast Conference Hockey League Player of the Year. "It is a total shock to me," Handy said.

Handy skated his team to a solid season this year by displaying leadership qualities that he knows he and putting together impressive individual statistics as well. The latter played a major part in Handy being named the WCHA Atlantic Coast Conference Hockey League Player of the Year. "It is a total shock to me," Handy said.

I think hockey encourages doing a homework for their students. I develop responsibility, self-reliance and awareness. I hope to provide a positive role model. What do you expect from Handy? I expect him to be a good leader, on and off of the ice," Handy said.

What is the Player of the Year honor in order? Handy said.

The award marked the first time that the Flames' Nick Anderson placed second overall at the 2000 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships. Handy named Player of the Year.

BATON ROUGE, La. — Guard Shaq Thompson had been there before. Close at the half. A chance to win.

The opportunity for the Big Three — Kansas, Kentucky and Wisconsin — to take a piece of the national championship basketball program.

But their hopes of winning the NCAA Tournament first round game. It was a 72-35 loss to the Lady Bulldogs. a game that UL lost with in the final minute of the second half.

This year, the target was No. 3 Lady Bulldogs, another Southeastern Conference foe. No. 14 LSU topped by only one, 26-26, at the half. It seemed like the right chance, and Thompson and the team were hopeful in the locker room.

We had a very positive attitude going into halftime. We knew there were things we needed to change. We knew there were things we needed to do differently. We just let things slip away in the second half.”

Thompson said.

Instead, LSU made a 66 percent shooting performance — capped with 29 percent shooting for by the second half to close out a 77-54 victory over the Lady Bulldogs at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in front of a crowd of 1,706. It was supposed to be the best match up of the NCAA appearance for UL. The Lady Bulldogs were close to UL in height.
