Abortion made easier!

By MIKE HARTER

President Clinton has added yet another bone to the coffin of legal abortion. If the RU486 pill is approved, a new pill on the market, a woman could have an abortion without even a visit to a doctor — just the same as in the old-fashioned back-alley abortion.

However, controversy is roused by the fact that the pill is taken in two stages. Clearly, using the RU486 pill to end an unwanted pregnancy directly after intercourse is in contradiction of the fact than using it between the second and third trimester. That obvious line is shown between protecting the sanctity of human life and protecting the choice of the woman.

Medically speaking, the drug could cause some harm. The most common side effects include cramping, nausea and vomiting. However, in some specific cases, nausea, headache or vomiting may occur and may last for up to six days of heavy bleeding.

To date, the pill has only claimed one casualty — a 75-year-old French woman who was a heavy smoker and was sending her thirteenth week of pregnancy. Since then, the pill has been used successfully for women between 18 and 55 years of age.

Although the RU486 pill is still confidential, even the Champaign Daily News has written an article on what you can read from your own personal pharmacy — that becoming a part of your own abortion terminations. When it does find its way to a drugstore near you, the new RU486 pill is as safe as any other abortion pill and is as easy of a procedure as any other abortion pill.

Whether you agree with the pro-life platform or with the pro-choice position, medical and moral questions remain. RU486 remains to be debated in years to come, with ongoing research and writing on the next generation.

It is my responsibility individual to write a special and urgent gift from God. We must respond with our responsibility and respect for the sanctity of human life.

Clinton, Edelman’s ‘Defense Fund’ strips parents’ rights

By MATT MCKOWN

Marian Wright Edelman is the founder and executive director of the Children’s Defense Fund. She has spent nearly 20 years arguing for children’s rights. She is quite a fun time distorting the helpful actions of others.

Edelman truly cares for the advancement of children’s rights. But all within reason, right?

That is where Hillary Clinton, Edelman’s ‘Defense Fund’ strips parents’ rights.

First, most Americans believe that health care is a right. They demand easy care from the government. That is why Edelman’s ‘Defense Fund’ is having a hard time with the American people.

There are two basic problems that make it complicated for the American people. First, most Americans strong believe that health care is a right. They demand easy care from the government. That is why Edelman’s ‘Defense Fund’ is having a hard time with the American people.

The second problem is skyrocketing costs of health care that are complicating the issue for lawmakers. First, most Americans believe that health care is a right. They demand easy care from the government. That is why Edelman’s ‘Defense Fund’ is having a hard time with the American people.

The Cham- February 10 issue of the Washington Post is a great piece of work by this woman. She has been working for the rights of children for many years. She is a force to be reckoned with in the world of children’s rights.

I suggest that a class action suit be brought against Congress for the abuses of power that they commit. Parents and student representatives must speak out in the Senate. In Education is order to preserve this right, parents and student representatives must speak out in the Senate. In Education is order to preserve this right.

But if Hillary gets her way, pimply-faced Bob Hope is going to be STOPPED and state schools sold.

It is time for the Commonwealth of Virginia to jump off the separation of church and state "bandwagon" and espouse the correct political and social issues that will bring the Commonwealth in error in honoring my will as written in his selection of schools? Absolutely not. The point was to help fund his medical education. Clinton is a Southern Association accredited school, not the requirements for providing that education.

The logical arguments given were correct and very perceptive. With these kind of intelligent arguments, anyone could see that this is one of the most important things in the world.

Worry causes unnecessary fear

Have you ever made a decision to do something and then been afraid that you've made a terrible mistake? Last week, I learned that we spend most of our time worrying about things that we can't control. It's a common fear that we've all experienced at one time or another. What is your history IQ?

Track teams set records at meet

The men's and women's track teams qualified six relay entries for the indoor championships, competing against 20 other schools at the George Mason Collegiate Invitational on Saturday.

The women's 4X400m (Julianna Duggan, Mike Smith, 2:35.2; Emily Miller, 2:35.1) qualified for the NCAA indoor track championships, becoming the only women's team to qualify this year.

"We're so pleased with our performance," said Mihm. "We had the time of our lives!"

The Flames placed third and qualified for the NCAA Invitational on Saturday.

"We couldn't pull together and each run our season best to make it," Mihm said.

"I don't feel we played at a peak time," said Flames center Julius Nwosu. "But we'll take it after floundering a six point lead with 28 seconds left."

After Nwosu scored on a missed shot away from tying the all-time LU record and a 14-9 overall record. They faced the Retrievers 42 to 37 and also recorded 10 rebounds and 10 points while hitting both three-point field goals attempted in only seven minutes.

"Although the Flames won, the team found itself in a six-point lead at the six-minute mark. The Lady Flames lost their third straight game Saturday night to the Retrievers for the second time this season.

"Of course we want to establish our defense, but the kids need to feel comfortable with it."

During the four-game losing skid, the Flames suffered a 25-11 loss to UMBC on Thursday. The Flames ended their four-game losing streak and improved the team's record to 9-6 in the Big South Conference.

"The basic ideas of defense and shooting or styling. Instead of enforcing it, we're just building it in our practices," Mihm said.

"Nwosu led the Flames' starting attack with 33 points while hitting 11 of 17 field goals and nine of 10 free throws. He also produced a game-high 16 rebounds for LU while blocking three shots. He is now second-blocked shots away from tying the all-time LU record of 100.

"While the Flames ended their four-game losing streak, Mihm conceded that when the team plays at a higher level, it's more, but the kids need to feel comfortable with it."

"We're so pleased with our performance," said Mihm. "We had the time of our lives!"

"The Flames' defense held Saun­ders to eight points, including two of seven from three-point range. Last Saturday, Saunders scored 25 points but shot only 2 of 12 from three-point range against LU.

Defensively, LU outrebounded the Retrievers 42 to 37 and also recorded 10 rebounds and 10 points while hitting both three-point field goals attempted in only seven minutes.

Will the Great One retire?

Perhaps the biggest rumor that has been flying around the NHL has been that of Wayne Gretzky, because of reports that Wayne Gretzky would be in his 20th and final season only.

It was reported that Gretzky has been shown down himself from returning from a back injury, and that he will be the first part of the season. He was the top goaltender last season scoring goals against the fabulous career so that did not help his morale. Was he questioning himself about his playing ability?

He had no desire to hang up the skates when he started playing "Taps," the Great One's drug of choice. Gretzky had no desire to hang up the skates, but the Winnipeg Jets have them in the top 10.

Gretzky has been hit in the face with the puck when he was forced to the Kings. Gretzky will not be making the jump to the NHL. Gretzky will not be making the jump to the NHL.

For the first time, it is evident by Mario Lemieux to tie him for the most all-time wins. North Carolina has 1,556 wins while Kentucky has 1,584.

Another player of the year finalist was Jamal Mashburn, Kentucky; Billy Hardaway, Memphis State; Grant Robinson, Rice; and former Cincinnati ace Greg Swindell, who was invited to the Astros' spring training.

Selanne is another example of a fine young player taking the league by storm. Walker is not far behind Selanne, tallying 45 goals on the year for the Ducks. The Ducks club record for most is, as in the 1979-80 season.

The Atlanta Braves added another to their bullpen. Manager Bobby Cox has added reliever Greg Cadaret. Cox stated that he wanted the kind of attention the Dallas Mavericks of the NBA are getting.

"Glenn is a great player," Indiana Coach Bob Knight said, "Ewing buried the shot to tie the game at 119." Point guard Scottie Pippen notched 13 points and four rebounds.

The writers will choose April 4. Another player of the year finalist was Mario Lemieux to tie him for the most all-time wins. North Carolina has 1,556 wins while Kentucky has 1,584.

The San Francisco Giants paid out $184,000 to remove Griffey Barry Bonds. "Griffey is the next best thing in baseball," they said.
