Graduating first class

By JEFFREY A. COLA

Special to the Champion

The Liberty University nursing program, which will graduate 38 in May, has received praise from community leaders as it continues to see accreditation.

The nursing students receive a general nursing degree which requires them to spend between eight and 19 hours each week to obtain clinical experience.

deed, they have been fulfilling this requirement in Virginia Beach and Lynchburg General Hospital.

Positive reports have come from such programs as Virginia Baptist president Tom Souders and1101 Health System nursing director George Dewney, according to the nursing department chairman Linda Miller.

\"The most of the people we work with are very positive about our nursing skills,\" Miller said. \"We've had very positive comments from nurses who are enthusiastic about working with our students.\"

Joanne Nogowski, a junior nursing major from Philadelphia, said the hospital training plays a major role in developing a student's nursing skills.

\"We're getting hands-on experience doing exactly what we are going to be doing in our professions,\" she said.

Nursing majors are also required to do an externship. Margaret Wholey, a registered nurse and employee of Virginia Baptist, was positive about one externing nurse from Liberty who worked with her. \"She was a very good worker and was really helpful,\" Wholey said.

Catherine Gaunt, dean of education, said this is largely due to the instructors. \"The staff is excellent and very well-motivated,\" she said. \"They are really teaching the students to care, not just about each other and our nursing students.\"

Nogowski is also thankful for the opportunities the nursing program has given her to work with the staff. \"I didn't really know about all the other hospital jobs, but they were my spiritual nurses,\" she said. \"Right now we are on a one-on-one basis with our patients, and we take advantage of that time to show Christ with them.\"

Miller said that this attitude is what the School of Nursing at Liberty is all about. \"Their own Christ's spirit,\" she said. \"We have the most caring and dedicated students that I have ever seen.\"

The nursing department has approximately 250 involved in its program. Over 100 students already applied for the program this year.

\"Our program is expanding next year,\" Miller said. \"We have already accepted 70 upcoming sophomores.\"

The program\'s advancement has been led by Liberty\'s accreditation council for the nursing department.

Dr. Daniel Kinkel, consultant from the National League for Nursing, and Robert B. Young, director of the Barlow and TEAM Registrar Barb Boothe encouraged the graduates their separate chapels, the graduates will be honored with the Professor of Military Science Excellence Award.

The army, the silver medal, is presented to a senior ROTC cadet from either Liberty University or Lynchburg College.

The Bancroft Award, which was established in memory of William Bancroft, former instructor of education, is presented to a student who has achieved a date for the actual accreditation visit.

The committee commended the department for its dedication, qualifications, spiritual postures and the number of terminal degrees in the department. The faculty was also complimented for its involvement inExtras activities while completing undergraduate work.

Gingerich said the education department include the curriculum library, the Behavior Research Center and the Barlow and TEAM scholarship.

The Bancroft scholarship was initially endowed in memory of William Bancroft, former instructor of education. TEAM Scholarships are awarded to minority teachers.

City attempts to strong-arm LU on ramp issue

As almost everybody must know by now, the Lynchburg City Council is once again trying to legitimate itself in the local citizenry by bullying Liberty University. This time the council’s actions are being condemned off-ramps that the city craves to have built. When the Vines Center and football stadium were built the council strongly plans for a 10,000 seat sanctuary and the Liberty Village retirement center were still alive, and the ramps were necessary in order to relieve the congestion these projects would create.

Now, however, neither will be built, and the ramps are unnecessary. It is an attempt to strengthen the position of the City Council. For some strange reason, LU is being held responsible in order to save the land from the evil casinos. These two were the first film, not this is not very much you are, will recall that the evil film was cut up and made as a port for the cost of the ramp and greenway. The shopping center makes great profits from the traffic. LU, on the other hand, only gets to use the city some prime property.

In its infinite wisdom the City Council has decided that Liberty alone should pay for the three ramps. It is a decision fraught with prejudice and grounded in selective perception. In the past several years, Liberty’s growth has been very controlled. Every year the freshmen class is larger, but graduation and dropout rates have not changed fairly constant. Except for basketball games, football games, and the occasional major concert, the traffic created from LU has also remained unchanged.

Meanwhile, a new shopping center has been built virtually in the same location and GU to shut up. They may that shut down the GU plant. They are responsible for most of the additional traffic problems. Obviously somebody wants to see either of these solutions implemented. But a compromise must be found somewhere.

The city is always ready to make concessions to companies who want to move to Lynchburg, even if most of the company’s money goes out of the city. Liberty employs local people. The money spent by Liberty students who stay in Lynchburg is good money. It seems only fair that the city should see some flexibility on the ramp issue by granting the school a simple extension. Liberty University has dedicated the heart of the council’s warped frustrations long enough. We should not have to pay for the city’s ramps at all. (The state of Virginia originally approved such a step.) That burden should fall upon those who actually create the problem, or the city.

City attempts to strong-arm LU on ramp issue

“The Never Ending Story II” stinks don’t.
At least it stinks that way. A sequel to the modestly successful “Never Ending Story,” this film is the story of Bastian, a young boy who is invited to the imaginary world of Fantasia to order to save the land from the evil princess.

Vision begins music ministry

By CURT W. OLSON

Proverbs 29:18 states, “Where there is no vision, the people perish.” The first LU student that contacts the band Vision is hopeful that, give the “vision” of Christ to a generation of avenues searching for answers. The five-member band introduced its first concert April 18 at LU. The purpose of the concert was to raise the necessary money to produce a documentation tape for a possible recording contract.

Although Vision is showing for the possibility of a recording contract, the group is relatively new. The group’s veteran, Lance Smith, came in contact with two members of the group Excathedra, which later became Strong House Records. Excathedra who joined the group were Jeremy Wint and Terry Monroe. This semester, two other LU students became involved in Vision, Steve Andrews and Josh Sapp. Vision’s first performance was April 15 at Straight Street. Straight Street is a local youth center for Christian teenagers which offers fellowship and entertainment.

Debate coach steps down

By O’Donnell, which comes after the team’s most successful season ever, was prompted by O’Donnell to pursue a Ph.D. in speech communication by the fact that the school and students will stay very happy with the commitment the school’s made with the program,” he said. "I’m not leaving because of the lack of commitment," he said. "In the future O’Donnell reported that he intends to remain the team’s coach. "A replacement is being sought, O’Donnell reported. The school has been searching for an assistant coach for 1 1/2 years. "We need to limit the power of the nation. George Mason University also had an outstanding program which allowed them to escape.

The increased maturity of the program under O’Donnell’s leadership was evidenced this year in the National Debate Tournament. For the first time in Liberty’s history, the team qualified for the tournament. George Mason was one of the top teams in the nation. "O’Donnell’s desire is to see debate programs improve," Michael Hall, a former debater, said. "Being one of the best friends I’ve had at Liberty. He is the one I went to when making a decision."

O’Donnell was a friend in every way, shape and form, he crossed the line from being a coach to being a friend," Edwards said.

Two LU students were awarded the Jo Anne J. Trow Award for being the best speech and debate students for 1990-91.

Golfers finish on an up beat

By PAMELA WALCK

The Liberty golf team ended its season on a high note as it placed 16 out of 17 teams, one of which nationally ranked, at the UVa-Virginia Classic this weekend.

Led by Chris Turner with 77-73-90 (220) and Todd Casabba with 76-79-72 (227), the team played confidently and recorded a new school record of 81 in a three game tournament. Coach Mike Hall expressed his pride in the team, "They played well together. I was not the least bit embarrassed by the game or the scores."

Prior to entering the tournament, the team was the goal of every player having a personal tryout first. Todd Casabba, who was recently honored as the MVP for men's, worked hard and ability played a personal best form of 69.

her to make an immediate impact with her athleticism and court sense. Ferguson, a 6-foot-5-inch, small forward, was known for his ability to run the floor and do the little things that make him a great player. He has been successful in his short time at Three Rivers Community College in Staunton, Va., where he has spent the last three seasons leading the Torquers to a 27-7 mark. Ferguson has also wanted a chance to play, and the Flames were able to be patient and place him in the right situation. His presence on the court will be crucial to our success, and we think he can have an immediate impact on our program. Ferguson is the type of player who sees the court well and can fill the role of a starting point guard. He is the type of player who can step in and play at a high level right away. His ability to make quick decisions and see the floor will be key for our success.

went 8-5 to clinch fifth in the remaining six innings. The Flames scored one run in the fifth, followed by a double-play squeeze. Then the Flames picked up two runs in the eighth on a fielder's choice RBI by Easley. But the Flames lost 5-2 in the ninth, losing by a pinch hitting, and Scott Harmsen went to pinch at second base after Travis Walmsley (the usual pinch hitter) was hit by an empty. Two ground outs and with Harmsen at third, the stage was set for pinch hitter. Chris Turner's game-winning single. The Flames' win boosted Riddick's mark to 15-5. Turner saved the game for LU improving his record to 4-1. Chris Easley was mentioned for his hitting, helping the Flames win.

both academics and athletics is a rare find. Senior Phil Kulp is one of those who spent studying or practicing, he said. "Every year you should prove, and I am glad I have always consistently," he said.

But Kulp’s academic success are both reaching their peaks in the classroom. He lightened his academic load by "Cutting 50%" of his autodidactic bonds and taking five modular classes. Kulp could have graduated last year, but he decided to stay for one more season of eligibility.

Phil Kulp admitted to having a weakness. His kryptonite comes in the form of breaking balls. "I am definitely a fastball hitter. Generally, I call the ball, but I have problems with breaking-ball pitchers."

If you thought that finding a color Macintosh* system you could afford was just a dream, then the new, affordable Macintosh LC is a dream come true.

The Macintosh LC is rich in color. Unlike many computers that can display only 16 colors at once, the Macintosh LC expands your palette to 256 colors. It also comes with a microphone and new sound-input technology that lets you personalize your work by adding voice or other sounds.

Like every Macintosh computer, the LC is easy to set up and easy to master. And it runs thousands of available applications that all work in the same, consistent way—so once you've learned one program, you're well on your way to learning them all. The Macintosh LC even lets you share information with someone who uses a different type of computer—thanks to the versatile Apple* SuperDrive™ which can read from and write to Macintosh, MS-DOS, OS/2, and Apple II floppy disks.

Take a look at the Macintosh LC and see what it gives you. Then pinch yourself. It's better than a dream—it's a Macintosh.
