13 College, Seminar Professors Attend ACE Workshops As Schools Grow

GRADUATION

On May 13 at 3 p.m., Liberty Mountain will be the setting for the 1979 Commencement Exercises for approximately 337 Liberty Baptist College, Liberty Baptist Seminary, Liberty Bible Institute and Liberty Home Bible Institute graduates. Charles Hughes will be commencement speaker.

By the year 1980, if present projections hold true, there will be $10,000 to $15,000 of these prospective for Christian colleges. At the present rate, the average size of an ACE school is 70 students with the schools ranging from seven to 600 students.

The ACE curriculum is pastoral, not academic. It stresses love for God, country, church and the home. The student must be a church member, and the program is conservative and continuingly seeking ways to improve their program.

A pastor of a church that has been using the ACE curriculum must attend the workshop. A pastor who accepts a student to a church that has a Christian day school using the ACE program must attend the workshop in order for the church to be able to continue receiving the material.

Jeff Sapp 'Converted' From Would-Be Vet To Missionary

By WANDA WATSON

At first glance Jeff Sapp would seem to be a typical country boy. Growing up on a farm near Danville, Va., and being around people and animals his whole life, a career as a veterinarian seemed to be his natural path. But the Lord had other plans.

Jeff, a junior at Liberty Baptist College, knew he was called to missions because of the souls of men he saw that the souls of men were more important than all the animals in the world. He had the minimum requirements for acceptance. "It clicked," Jeff said. "I realized that I wasn't fulfilling the purpose of God."

That is exactly what Jeff Sapp, a missions major now, and his classmates have been doing. "I'm alive in Jeff: "If I could see this world through your eyes, dear Lord," Jeff said, "I could see what Jesus saw."

And that is how it was. Jeff started attending church at the age of 14. In 1975, he got out of bed and took some correspondence courses. He joined his heart out to God. "Lord, maybe you don't understand. I'm going to be a veterinarian. Everybody will think that I'm mixed up!

Jeff is now an Intern Training for Evangelism team member, and is working on the mercy ship "Hallelujah," which will be in South China Sea. He plans to travel throughout South America. The team leaves each song in Spanish so that they can better minister to the scattered believers who are trying to break through the barriers.

Jeff goes to Bible Class, and together with other students they share God's word with those who need to hear it. "I have no idea what I am doing. I'm just learning to serve the Lord," Jeff said. "I'm learning to be humble as the needs of people lay heavy on my heart."

The team has many needs: literature and supplies to send to the jungle, missionaries, and people who want to work on the mercy ship. The team is looking for people who will pray for them, send them literature, and support them.

Jeff Sapp is still very active. He is a part president of both the California Message Therapy Association and the American Massage Therapy Association. As a Registered Massage Therapist, he does massage and self-care therapy.

Women's Retreat at Eagle Eyrie Encourages Wives, Mothers

By WANDA WATSON

"A Woman For All Seasons" was the theme of the 5th annual Women's Retreat, directed by Mrs. Colleen Wang, which was held Saturday, April 7, at the Eagle Eyrie. The morning session began as the 100 ladies listened to special music from LBC graduates Mike Clinton, former LBC student and former LBC Choirs member, Mrs. Beverly Linsey, homemaker and vocalist, gave a special testimony. Mrs. Colleen Wang presented a message on Abigail, taken from I Samuel 15.

The luncheon banquet was hosted by the LCA students in honor of graduating seniors. The juniors raised in excess of $2,500, culminating in a year-and-a-half of planning and hard work. The staff of Hotel Roanoke created the meal while the program was the result of the organization of Jeanie King and the Junior Class officers, Carolyne Mattox, LBC student and former LBC Chorale President.

The theme select was "Always and Forever." The program began with pictures in front of an exquisite parlor setting.

The main speaker by far received a most enthusiastic welcome as former teacher John Frasure was introduced.

Frasure, flown in by the Junior Class from Florida, started his message by bluntly informing the juniors that he would have loved to have brought his wife, only the juniors didn't buy her a ticket. Amidst the laughing, his point is that we should make a commitment in our life. His text was "Remember the Creators in the days of thy youth." All present were inspired by the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Palmer as their Flat wedding anniversary. Rev. LCG president and dean of TRBI led a group on the Season of Effective Preachers.

The highlight of the day was "Nineteen Seventy-nine in Washington!!! And I want you to join me in letting our nation's capitol know that there are fundamentalists who will stand up and be counted. The issue is religious freedom. We are crusading against abortion-on-demand, the use of pornography in sex education courses. And television is getting more corrupt. Ten years ago we would have been embarrassed to show a homosexual on T.V., now they appear on situation comedy programs and people laugh at them. The ladies portrayed our vision of what God had laid upon their hearts during the retreat.

On April 12, you would have had a grand social calendar, has escalated over the years and is now the main ballroom, at the Hotel Roanoke. The evening's program was the result of the organization of Jeanie King and the Junior Class officers, Carolyne Mattox.

The banquet is hosted by the Junior Class officers, Carolyne Mattox, LBC student and former LBC Chorale President. Master of Ceremonies David Temple introduced the show immediately after the meal by introducing Michelle Warren, Miss Virginia, who gave an outstanding performance in attendance. The wits and features of the evening's program were led by Doug McHaney, John Meade and David Temple. One group was accompanied by a slide presentation, produced by the photography of Ken Trest.
