Chapter One: Of Texas, and Things Texan: The Culture

1. What is a culture? Why is important to know the cultural context of peoples' ideas and actions?

2. History Identify three stages of development in Texas. What are some features of the settlement of New Spain by the Spaniards? Where were the major forts located? What circumstances led to Mexican independence?

3. Discuss the patterns of Anglo settlement in Texas and characteristics of the rural-land frontier. What other European and non-European groups settled? What parts of the United States provided the greatest numbers of settlers?

4. Ideology Identify the three political subcultures of Daniel Elazar's model. What are the characteristics of each?

5. Identify seven developments that have shaped the dominant ideology and psychology of Texas. How did the Civil War affect Texans? Identify some contributions of religious fundamentalism to the culture. What circumstances account for the populist revolt and the influence of Social Darwinism?

6. Population How has the racial and ethnic character of the Texas population changed since the Second World War? Identify some of the social and economic trends late in the twentieth century.

7. Economics What were the principal Texas products of the late rural-land frontier stage? How did things change with the onset of the industrial-urban stage? What were the chief industries? How did this stage affect the population?

8. What changes have been associated with the post-industrial metropolitan-technological stage of development? What are some of the chief areas (geographic as well as occupational) of economic growth? How does income distribution vary?

Chapter Two: The Texas Constitution
1. Identify some steps in the development of English constitutional principles. Describe the chief assumptions of John Locke's social contract theory. Identify the basic features of state constitutions.

2. Development of Constitutions Identify the six 19th century constitutions that preceded the current Constitution of 1876. What were the chief provisions of each?

3. Characterize the atmosphere in which the Constitution of 1876 was drafted and the principles upon which it was based. Why is it so lengthy? How did it reflect the traditionalistic-individualistic character of the state itself? Why is much policymaking done by constitutional amendment?

4. Question of Constitutional Revision How frequently have efforts been made to revise the Texas Constitution? Why have they failed? What steps were taken in 1973-1975? Identify the chief obstacles to constitutional revision at that time. What has been the prevailing attitude about revision since that time?
